India violated sovereignty of Canada: Trudeau

US, UK, and other members of the Five Eyes group ask India to probe Canadian charges

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

CANADIAN Prime Minister Justin Trudeau on Wednesday said there were clear indications that India had violated Canadian sovereignty, alluding to the murder of Khalistani radical Hardeep Singh Nijjar in British Columbia last year.

He was testifying before a federal commission probing into foreign interference in the country. Trudeau named gangster Lawrence Bishnoi jailed in India, as one of the conduits for criminal activities in Canada at the alleged behest of the Modi government.

Trudeau said Indian diplomats were collecting information of Canadians who were opponents of or in disagreement with the Modi government. They passed the information to their government, which employed criminals like the Lawrence Bishnoi gang to harm Canadians, he alleged.

The Royal Canada Mounted Police (RCMP) wanted to disrupt this chain, which is why they went public on Monday, he said. "We wanted to question the Indian diplomats but since they didn't agree we asked them to leave the country."

Trudeau alleged that Indian diplomats were involved in covert, clandestine activities, and were withholding family visas of suspects. The RCMP felt it had reached the threshold as it was soon turning to be a threat to public safety, he added.

Trudeau said that when he apprised Prime Minister Narendra Modi in September 2023 (on the sidelines of the G20 Summit in Delhi) about the information, he said that there were Canadians who were involved in hate speeches and India would like them arrested. "I told Modi that the people in Canada had freedom of speech and we would work with India if it came to terrorism."

INDIA ASKED FOR PROOF

Trudeau said they engaged with the Modi govt as they wanted to know if Indian agencies were involved in harming Canadians as they needed to be accountable. But India sought evidence, he said

Earlier in the day, Canada's allegations found resonance in the Five Eyes intelligence alliance it is part of. The grouping includes the UK, the US, Australia, and New Zealand. "When it comes to the Canadian matter, we have made it clear that the allegations are extremely serious and they need to be taken seriously. And we wanted to see the government of India cooperate with Canada in its investigation," State Department spokesman Matthew Miller told reporters. "Obviously, they have not," he said. "They have chosen an alternate path."

As for Britain, its Foreign Commonwealth and Development Office said, "The Government of India's cooperation with Canada's legal process is the right next step."

It's raining chaos in Namma B'luru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

INCESSANT rain in the past two days brought the IT City to its knees. The steady downpour since Tuesday morning led to floods in many residential layouts in low-lying areas. Chaos prevailed on roads because of traffic jams due to waterlogging across the city even on Wednesday.

Residents of Sai Layout near Horamavu and Kendriya Vihar Apartment in Yelahanka were struggling to clear rainwater that entered their homes.

The India Meteorological Department's Bengaluru observatory reported that the city recorded 6.8 mm of rain from 8.30 am to 8.30 pm on Wednesday.

According to BBMP, rain battered Yelahanka zone, resulting in waterlogging at Central Residency Apartment. Thirteen motors were pressed into service to pump water. Waterlogging was also reported from Ramanashree California, Fathima and Bhadrappa layouts in the city.

Properties in many areas were damaged as 47 trees were uprooted. Several electric poles were damaged as branches of trees fell on them. Rescue teams from the Fire and Emergency Services Department, BBMP and the State Disaster Response Force worked overnight to clear rainwater from houses and apartments.

Kendriya Vihar Apartment was flooded again and BBMP sent tractors to shift the residents from there. P4

Siddu aide quits as MUDA chief, activist claims Mahadevappa will be forced to go

AMID investigation into the MUDA site allotment scam in which Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is an accused, MUDA chairperson K Marigowda resigned on Wednesday, citing health reasons.

Marigowda, a close aide of Siddaramaiah, submitted his resignation letter to Urban Development secretary Deepa Cholan, following a directive from the CM.

"I have resigned as MUDA chairperson for health reasons. I have had two strokes and I am not in a position to continue as MUDA chairperson. There was no pressure from the CM to resign in view of the investigation into the MUDA case. The investigation is going on and I am confident that the truth will come out soon," he stated in his resignation letter, according to a source.

Marigowda's resignation comes at a time when the alleged irregularities in allotment of sites by MUDA snowballed into a major issue with opposition BJP and JDS seeking Siddaramaiah's resignation.

Despite denying any wrongdoing, pressure has been mounting on Marigowda and a few others to quit. Marigowda, however, reiterated that neither Siddaramaiah nor other party leaders asked him to resign as MUDA chairperson or to act improperly in matters pertaining to the case.

However, during Siddaramaiah's Mysuru tour two weeks ago, several Congress workers, including his followers, gheraoed Marigowda, who was at the airport to receive him. After this, it was speculated that Marigowda would soon resign as MUDA chairperson.

Nagendra: ED wanted to 'fix' CM, deputy CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER minister B Nagendra on Wednesday accused the Enforcement Directorate (ED) of harassing him after his arrest in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation scam to name Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar in the scam to destabilise the Congress government.

Speaking to reporters outside the Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara after his release on bail, Nagendra alleged that the ED officials wanted to "fix them in the case".

He alleged that some bank officials are responsible for misappropriation of funds of the corporation and the government has no role in it. "At the behest of central and state BJP leaders, the ED arrested me," he alleged. The SIT did not find his role in the scam and he is innocent, he claimed.

Alleging that he was arrested because of pressure from some BJP leaders, the Congress MLA from Ballari asserted that his party will win bypolls to the Legislative Assembly from Channapatana, Sandur and Shiggaon constituencies.

Nagendra was arrested three months ago in connection with the multi-crore scam in the corporation. He was granted bail on Monday.

Munirathna released

Meanwhile, Rajarajeshwari Nagar BJP MLA Munirathna, who was granted bail in connection with a rape case, was also released from prison on Wednesday.

His supporters, who gathered near his house at Vyalikaval, celebrated his release by bursting crackers and distributing sweets.

TERRORISM WON'T BOOST TRADE, JAISHANKAR'S VEILED DIG AT PAK

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

TAKING a jab at Pakistan's policy of nurturing and exporting terror, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said on Wednesday that three evils—terrorism, extremism, and separatism—are holding back regional cooperation initiatives. Speaking at the 23rd Shanghai Corporation Organisation (SCO) Summit in Islamabad, Jaishankar said these evils should be rooted out before any progress can be made on trade and people-to-people connect.

"Our endeavours will progress only when our commitment to the SCO Charter remains firm... this means being firm and uncompromising in countering the 'three evils'. If activities across borders are characterized by terrorism, extremism and separatism, they are hardly likely to encourage trade, energy flows, connectivity and people-to-people exchanges in parallel," Jaishankar said in remarks that were seen as directed towards Pakistan.

In a veiled reference to China, with which India has an ongoing border dispute, Jaishankar said that trade and connectivity initiatives must recognise territorial integrity and sovereignty, and it is essential to have an "honest conversation" on lack of trust.

"If trust is lacking or cooperation inadequate, if friendship has fallen short and good neighbourliness is missing somewhere, there are surely reasons to introspect and causes to address," he added in an indirect reference to China's assertive behaviour.

Jaishankar also emphasised the need for comprehensive reform of the UN Security Council to make the global body more representative, transparent and efficient. "The SCO must be in the lead of advocating such change, not hold back on a matter of such importance," he said.

Ahead of the deliberations, Pakistan PM Shebaz Sharif shook hands with Jaishankar and received him.

Boy held for hoax bomb threats to three flights

SHEKHAR SINGH & UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

AT least 20 flights had to be grounded at different airports in and outside the country in the past 48 hours following hoax bomb threats, prompting the Ministry of Home Affairs to seek a report from the civil aviation ministry.

Civil Aviation Minister Ram Mohan Naidu Kinjarapu on Wednesday chaired a high-level meeting of the Directorate General of Civil Aviation, Bureau of Civil Aviation Security and CISF. "I am deeply concerned over the recent disruptive acts targeting Indian airlines, affecting both domestic and international operations... our law enforcement agencies are pursuing all the cases," he said.

Senior aviation ministry officials said that the threats targeted four IndiGo flights, two SpiceJet, and one Akasa Air, causing disruption and concern among passengers. "Six hoax threats were received on Monday, seven on Tuesday and as many on Wednesday," an official told this newspaper.

Multiple FIRs have been filed by law enforcement agencies of different states, which include three cases being registered by Mumbai Police and eight by Delhi Police.

Meanwhile, the Mumbai Police has detained a 17-year-old boy from Chhattisgarh's Rajnandgaon for allegedly sending threats to three flights. The boy reportedly created a social media account in his friend's name to send the threats.

COLONIAL LEGACY PURGED

Blindfold off SC's new Statue of Justice

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

A new Statue of Justice unveiled in the Supreme Court library for judges does not have the iconic blindfold and the sword. The new open-eyed statue instead holds a copy of the Constitution of India in the left hand. There, however, is no change in the scales of justice in her right hand.

Commissioned by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud, the idea behind removing the blindfold was to send a message that the law is not blind in the country. The blindfold in the colonial era statue signified equality before the law. And the sword had represented authority and the power to punish injustice.

A well placed source said Justice Chandrachud believes that India should move forward from the British legacy. According to the CJI, the law is never blind; it sees everyone equally.

Quoting the CJI, the source said, "the statue should have the Constitution in one hand and not a sword, so that a message goes out to the country that she dispenses justice according to the Constitution." While the sword is a symbol of violence, courts deliver justice according to constitutional laws, Justice Chandrachud reasoned.

The court complex already has a mural on the Lady of Justice in classical Indian attire with more or less the same theme. Holding the scales of justice in her right hand and looking upward at the scales, she stands atop a lotus. On the other hand is the Constitution of India. Murals of Mahatma Gandhi and the Chakra complete the iconography in that restricted section of the court.

POLITICAL SLUGFEST OVER FLOODS

Oppn puts govt on mat over failing infra

Says Deve Gowda had great foresight for city, but Cong govts exploited the vision

The government is doing its best to manage the rain havoc. Opposition parties must stop tarnishing the image of Bengaluru

-DK Shivakumar, Deputy CM

Merely promoting 'Brand Bengaluru' without allocating funds, will not resolve the issues

- Basavaraj Bommai, Former CM and BJP MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER heavy rain caused flooding in Bengaluru, particularly in the IT corridors, a political clash erupted between the ruling Congress and opposition parties. Rain disrupted traffic and inundated areas like Manyata Tech Park and Whitefield, prompting sharp accusations from opposition party leaders over poor infrastructure in the state capital.

Janata Dal Secular pointed out that former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda had laid the foundation for Bengaluru's IT boom with great foresight, but successive Congress governments had squandered the vision into a real estate debacle and exploitation of land.

In response, Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar lashed out at the opposition parties for shaming Bengaluru for rain fury. "It is impossible to control nature. The government is doing its best to manage the rain havoc. Opposition parties must stop tarnishing the image of Bengaluru. Since there are chances of more rain, the public should plan accordingly," he said. As a precautionary measure, a holiday has been declared and a meeting with BBMP, police and fire department officials will be held, he added.

On tweets from opposition leaders on Bengaluru rain, he said "we cannot tell nature to stop the rain, which is caused by cyclones". "The government and people of Bengaluru are capable of handling it," he added. Home Minister G Parameshwara echoed this sentiment, questioning the opposition's criticism by emphasising the unexpected nature of the rain in October, and said no one could influence the changing weather patterns.

Former CM and BJP MP Basavaraj Bommai countered that merely promoting 'Brand Bengaluru' without allocating funds, will not resolve the issues. He pointed out that during his tenure as CM, Rs 800 crore was allocated for storm water drain works, for which work had started. He stressed that these works should be cleared before monsoon. The political back-and-forth intensified when JDS shared an old video on the official handle of Mohammed Haris Nalapad, state president of Karnataka Pradesh Youth Congress, wading through the floodwaters, accusing the ruling party of hypocrisy for downplaying previous criticism when in the opposition.

Retaining wall collapses at Nagawara

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A retaining wall at a construction site near Manyata Tech Park in Nagawara collapsed on Tuesday, following heavy rainfall that led to significant waterlogging. Fortunately, no casualties were reported in the incident.

The collapse resembled a landslide, bringing down a tree and two temporary sheds set up for construction workers. While there were no workers at the site, a few earth movers were stationed in the deeply excavated site.

The incident occurred on Tuesday between 3-4 pm at the site located on the road leading to Rachenahalli, the police said, adding that no injuries were reported in the incident.

The video of the incident was widely circulated on social media, where netizens slammed authorities for poor maintenance of the city. As many claimed that the incident occurred in Manyata Tech Park, Embassy REIT clarified that the collapsed wall does not belong to Embassy REIT or Embassy Manyata Properties. "At Embassy REIT, we prioritise the smooth operations for our occupiers, even during challenging times like yesterday's intense rainfall in the city. Through the development of a new culvert, a critical flood mitigation measure to manage the water flow, along with annual desilting and raising the nallah embankment, strategic positioning of external stormwater sumps, and the deployment of high-capacity dewatering systems that cleared road floodwaters within 2-4 hours, our on-ground teams ensured business continuity. Internal stormwater drainage systems were activated to manage excess water flow," an official statement read.

70 HOUSES AFFECTED, 6 ROADS SUBMERGED IN SAI LAYOUT

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath and a team of officials visited the apartment and other affected areas. The Palike provided water and food to residents of Sai Layout which was flooded. According to a resident, around 70 houses were affected due to Tuesday's rain. Six roads in the layout were submerged and people could not move to safer places because of this. Those living on ground floors had to move to terraces of their houses, he said. After visiting Kendriya Vihar Apartment, Tushar Girnath told reporters that he has directed his officials to take steps to prevent rainwater from entering the apartment.

"A drain is being built on the private land next to the canal near the apartment. Water will be diverted to this drain. Water is being pumped out by two vehicles from the Fire and Emergency Services Department. A help desk has been set up and drinking water and food are being provided to the affected people," Girinath said.

He said the Yelahanka lake has two sluices. One of them is near the Kendriya Vihar Apartment. The flow of water has to be controlled here now. When the water level increases in the sluice in the south, the flow in the sluice in the north near the apartment decreases. Because of this, water enters the apartment complex. Palike officials have been instructed to take action immediately in this regard, he added.

Cauvery Stage VI to cost ₹7,200 cr, supply water across city

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Thorekadanahalli Reservoir

KEEPING in view the future growth of Bengaluru city, the government will implement Cauvery Stage VI project, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah announced at Thorekadanahalli (TK Halli) in Malavalli taluk of Mandya on Wednesday, after inaugurating Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board's (BWSSB) Cauvery Stage V project. It will cater to the drinking water needs of 110 villages that were merged into Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) in 2007.

Earlier, BWSSB was supplying 1.58tmcft of water every month to Bengaluru, and with the commencement of Stage V, the city will get 2.4tmcft.

Addressing the gathering, the CM said 2,225 MLD of water is already being supplied to Bengaluru city through different stages. "Cauvery Stage VI, to be implemented at a cost of Rs 7,200 crore, will provide enough water to all citizens of Bengaluru in future," he said, adding that the project will have nine Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs) with a capacity of 500 MLD water. "The cost of drinking water supply is around Rs 5,200 crore, and construction of nine STPs is around Rs 2,000 crore. We aim to make Bengaluru city water-surplus by supplying water to its every corner," he said.

Siddaramaiah also lauded Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and BWSSB for executing the 775 MLD capacity Cauvery Stage V project, and said lakhs of people will benefit.

CM takes dig at Oppn

Siddaramaiah launched a scathing attack against the opposition BJP and JDS for doing little to develop Bengaluru. He said HD Kumaraswamy was CM when 110 villages and seven city municipal councils were merged into the BBMP in 2007, but did not give any basic amenities. Later, a BJP government came to power but didn't do anything. It was during the Congress regime between 2013 and 2018 that the groundbreaking ceremony for Stage V was done, and now he was inaugurating the project. He said a DPR has been prepared for Mekedatu balancing reservoir, but BJP and JDS MPs do not speak about it before the Central government. "The Centre collects Rs 4 lakh crore as taxes from Karnataka but gives only Rs 60,000 crore in return in stages, while Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh get the maximum amount," he said.

Forest land marked: DKS

Shivakumar said forest and government land have been identified in Malavalli taluk and Ramanagara for the Mekedatu project. "Karnataka has released 216tmcft of water to Tamil Nadu as against 136tmcft up to September," he said, and added that stage by stage, the government will solve drinking water problems.

HC may give nod for Karanth Layout site allotment soon

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IT has been a year since the allotment of sites at the fully planned Dr Shivarama Karanth Layout of BDA kept in abeyance. With the High Court hearing cases against the Layout at a stretch for three consecutive days this week, concluding on Wednesday, the hopes of getting the green signal for site allotments are high. BDA has already invested nearly Rs 1,800 crore on the project which has 34,000 sites.

Nearly 100 writ petitions have been filed by landowners against BDA in the court, with a few others at lower courts too. A top official told TNIE, "Until now, the special bench heard the case only once a week. But this week, it was heard three consecutive days. BDA officials are expecting a nod from the court to go ahead with the allotment of sites. The next hearing is on October 25." The original allotment deadline was December 2023.

The layout was completed under the supervision of the Justice A V Chandrashekar committee in September 2023. With landlosers set to be allotted sites on priority, general public will get 10,000 sites. The cost has been fixed at Rs 4,900 per sqft. Another official said there is no work pending on the formation of sites. "Laying of roads, electricity supply, water and drainage connections are on at present. Nearly 60% of the work is completed. The facilities will be ready before allottees start building on their sites," he said. BDA has decided to levy betterment charges in all the villages, with the value of the property expected to soar. Different rates have been fixed for different areas.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Try to think of a possession or personal contact you are losing as something that you might be better off without. You know better than anyone that your future happiness depends more than anything on a change of attitude. Strangely, it would probably also do partners good if you altered your opinions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
In spite of the many obstacles that circumstances are placing in your path, the long-term plan is still working in your favour. Never imagine that you are powerless in the face of fate. You're not, and if there's anything astrology can teach you, then it's how to create your own future.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Don't expect business affairs to go exactly according to plan. On the other hand, there is really no need to worry about short-term hiccups turning into long-term catastrophes - just as long as you keep your finger on the pulse. That way you'll be prepared for the unexpected.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Sure you have your shy side, but anyone who still believes that you are always timid is about to be put firmly in their place. However, over the next three days you can expect to meet considerably more opposition than for many weeks, so take a positive approach and listen to good advice.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Concern about a personal matter is due to increase over the next forty-eight hours, but this is all to the good if it alerts you to possible weaknesses. Put your time to good account by cleaning up your diet, improving your exercise and devoting more attention to your responsibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's a minor planetary cycle at work that affects your sign and which comes to a head over the coming two or three days. The opportunities which now open up should be profoundly creative in the broadest sense and could, eventually, lead to a life which is so much more satisfying.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
People at home will be gearing up for a fight. This is one of those disputes in which nothing of substance seems to be involved beyond a feeling that someone's pride has been hurt. But, then, it's what exactly people feel that counts, and that's why they need to be placated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It may be wise to wait another few days before pressurising anybody else into a firm commitment. The fact is that close partners may feel much more strongly about your ideas than you realised. You should probably spend a little extra effort on gentle persuasion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You're in a generally prosperous phase, but as soon as you stop concentrating, costs could shoot up. All that happens financially from now until the weekend may not be entirely to your liking. This is one of those times when you have to accept that the planets could be pushing you in a new direction.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You must be very careful what tactics you apply over the coming days. You may feel that it is wisest to sit back and let events take their own course, intervening only in the most critical situations. If someone close is absolutely determined to go their own way, then at least you can make sure that they succeed!

BELAGAVI REALTOR'S DEATH

DETERMINED DAUGHTER FILES FIR AGAINST MOM

New twist as CCTV footage goes missing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

THE recent suspicious death of real estate businessman Santosh Padmannavar has taken a dramatic turn, with his daughter filing an FIR against her mother. Police have started an investigation, based on the complaint filed by Santosh's daughter Sanjana. They have started grilling Santosh's wife and are also on the lookout for her friend, who allegedly helped her in the crime.

Santosh Padmannavar (47), who was a social activist and realtor, and a resident of Mahantesh Nagar, Belagavi, died under suspicious circumstances on October 9. He is survived by his wife Uma Padmannavar, a daughter and two sons. Earlier, Uma Padmannavar had told everyone, including the family, her daughter and sons that Santosh had died after a heart attack, and she had held his funeral on October 10 after donating his eyes to a private hospital, as was his last wish.

However, Sanjana, who is studying in Bengaluru, doubted the sudden demise of her father as he was a healthy person. Since Santosh had installed about 16 CCTV cameras in his house, she expressed her curiosity to check the CCTV footage after the funeral.

Uma asked her to have a bath before seeing the videos. When she returned to watch the videos, she learnt that the CCTV footage was deleted. When Sanjana inquired about it with her younger brothers, they admitted that they had deleted the CCTV footage as per their mother's instructions.

Doubting her mother, Sanjana discussed the issue with her uncle and relatives and registered an FIR at Malamaruti police station against her mother. Acting on the complaint, police started an inquiry.

CCTV footage from a neighbouring house revealed two unknown persons entering Santosh's house before his death on October 9.

Police then exhumed Santosh's body in the presence of Assistant Commissioner Shravan Kumar and asked the forensic team to conduct a postmortem to know the exact cause of death. Police also started questioning Uma.

The police commissioner said, "We will know the exact cause of death after the autopsy report comes. We are also trying to recover the deleted CCTV footage."

Man meets woman on dating app, loses ₹1.12 cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

A man lost Rs 1.12 crore to online trading scam after accepting a friend request from a woman on the Happn dating app. According to the complaint filed with CEN police station here, the complainant accepted a friend request from one Leena Jose on the app on June 28. She asked him to continue chatting on Telegram, and suggested that he invest in Admiral Market Forex trading. On her advice, he downloaded an app called Wavegptexa and logged in. On July 3, the complainant transferred Rs 50,000 via NEFT to Wavegptexa. Soon after, he was informed that higher investments would yield greater profits which led him to transfer Rs 10 lakh to various bank accounts provided by the accused.

The app showed a profit of Rs 80 lakh in his account. When he tried to withdraw the amount, he was informed that 30% of the tax amount needed to be paid first. So, the complainant transferred Rs 19.26 lakh to various accounts. Later, he was told that an additional 10% bank transaction fee was required to convert the dollars to Indian rupees, after which he transferred Rs 7.36 lakh. When he attempted to withdraw Rs 50 lakh, he was informed that, due to the large sum, the risk control department had withheld the funds and that he needed to deposit 50% of the amount to release it. The complainant then transferred Rs 26.84 lakh. Further withdrawal attempts were met with another condition: the complainant needed to become a VIP client, but his credit score was too low. To raise the score to 100%, he was asked to deposit more money. Following these instructions, the complainant continued to transfer funds to various accounts until September 23.

YOGESHWARA HINTS AT CONTESTING AS INDEPENDENT IF NDA DENIES HIM TICKET

Says surveys give him a clear edge, adds parties may let him down, but not people

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

FORMER minister and BJP MLC CP Yogeshwara gave all indications of contesting as an independent in the November 13 Channapatna Assembly bypoll, claiming that surveys have given him a clear edge.

"I contested five elections as a BJP candidate, but won only once. The powerful Deve Gowda family was against me with the support of DK Shivakumar. This time, my supporters have made up their mind to make me an independent MLA. I am confident that even if political parties let me down, my people will hold my hand," he asserted at a crucial meeting he held on Wednesday with his supporters and BJP workers on Kudluru Road at Channapatna.

He said his supporters suggested him to contest as an independent even if the NDA does not consider his candidature. The workers alleged that JDS state president and Union minister HD Kumaraswamy is not giving up the seat to Yogeshwara as he wants to field his son Nikhil.

"If I don't get a ticket, I will take a decision based on what our workers say. But I don't need to rush. I will be the BJP-JD(S) alliance candidate. There is no confusion," Yogeshwara told reporters.

"If BJP wants to grow in Old Mysuru, I have to contest the election. I am a senior BJP member in this region. Kumaraswamy is also wise. I am confident that NDA leaders will convince everyone and give me the ticket," he said.

"According to the information I have, BJP-JDS leaders will finalise my name. I have complete faith in party leaders. I have discussed it with leaders of both parties. The name will most probably be announced in a couple of days. I have spoken to Kumaraswamy many times in the past and with our state and central leaders," he said.

At the Channapatna meeting, KT Jayaram advised Kumaraswamy to adhere to the alliance dharma, as Yogeshwar sacrificed Bengaluru Rural Lok Sabha seat to Dr Manjunath, who won eventually. "Not only BJP, but also JDS workers favour Yogeshwara. BJP and JDS have always locked horns in the constituency. Now it is time to unite both by giving the ticket to Yogeshwara," said Hanumantha, a lawyer. Many other local BJP leaders, including Prasad Gowda, Kunigere Ravi and Gowtham Gowda, opined that Yogeshwara deserves the ticket and will win comfortably.

A documentary on Yogeshwara's achievements was screened at the meeting and his supporters shouted slogans hailing Yogeshwara as the next MLA.

Meals seized at meet

The election staff, led by Assistant Commissioner BK Binoy, who is the returning officer, seized the non-vegetarian meals arranged for over 2,000 BJP workers at the resort near Channapatna where Yogeshwara held the meeting. They found that chicken dishes and biryani were being prepared for the participants. Since it's a violation of the model code of conduct and an inducement to the electorate, they initiated action and filed an FIR. It was a disappointment for those attending the meeting as only water could be served to them.

Tejasvini keen on Channapatna, writes to Venugopal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN a political twist, former Kanakapura MP Tejasvini Gowda, a Vokkaliga leader, has written to AICC General Secretary KC Venugopal, urging him to consider her for the Channapatna Assembly bypoll ticket. This comes just months after her return to the Congress after her shock resignation from BJP as an MLC.

Tejasvini, whose political journey is phenomenal, shot to national prominence in 2004, defeating former prime minister HD Deve Gowda in the Kanakapura -- now Bangalore Rural Lok Sabha – constituency by a huge margin of 1,20,000 votes. Channapatna, a crucial assembly segment within this constituency, was a major factor in her landslide victory.

Speaking to TNIE, Tejasvini recalled the overwhelming support she received from Channapatna in 2004. Although her 2009 battle against former CM HD Kumaraswamy didn't go her way, owing to delimitation, party infighting and defections, she brushed off the past, choosing to focus on the future.

In a twist of fate, the force behind her 2004 triumph, DK Shivakumar, now KPCC president, once again appears to be backing her. After her meeting with Shivakumar on Tuesday, the stage seems set for another dramatic chapter in her career. Party insiders said a victory for her would also solidify Shivakumar's leadership within Congress. Later, Gowda was seen with Venugopal at CM Siddaramaiah's residence. As the stakes are high, the opposition is not taking the contest lightly. NDA sources made it clear that if Congress picks Tejasvini, they are out for revenge after her defection from BJP. Within Congress, Tejasvini is up against former Karnataka Public Service Commission member Raghunandan Ramanna for the ticket.

In the opposition camp, BJP MLC CP Yogeshwara is a strong contender. But with Kumaraswamy, who held the seat till getting elected to the Lok Sabha, is keen on BJP-JDS alliance ticket for his son Nikhil. Yogeshwara on Wednesday indicated that he could contest as an independent if the NDA ticket does not come his way.

TOUGH TEST

Bommai: Not pushing son for Shiggaon by-election

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FORMER Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday clarified that he is not keen on his son Bharat Bommai contesting the assembly bypolls, and that he has not proposed his name either.

He, however, said his son's name was discussed at the BJP core committee meeting, at which he was not present. "The party state president has assured that a decision will be taken after discussing it with me, and the names will be finalised," he told reporters.

"I have neither proposed his name officially, nor submitted any application. He has been focusing on his business, and doesn't want that to be disrupted. He is considering providing opportunities for others," Bommai pointed out. "We are confident of getting substantial support in Shiggaon this time as well."

Replying to former minister Murugesh Nirani's desire to contest the bypolls, Bommai said Nirani had expressed interest, but the high command will make the final decision. "The matter of outsiders contesting, instead of locals, will also be decided by the high command. I have already held meetings with local aspirants, and over 50 people have submitted applications, with five or six serious contenders," he revealed.

The list of candidates for the by-elections to three constituencies, including Shiggaon, will be prepared after discussions by the core committee in the next two or three days, he informed.

The core committee has already discussed potential candidates for the three assembly constituencies, with three teams having visited the constituencies and gathered feedback from locals, based on which the list of probable candidates has been submitted, he elaborated.

"Since Shiggaon is the constituency I represent, I carry a greater responsibility. Our party's Karnataka in-charge secretary, Radha Mohan Das Agrawal, visited the constituency and held meetings with local leaders to gather feedback. We are fully prepared for the election, and I am confident of substantial support," Bommai noted.

Favoured Yogeshwara for Channapatna

Bommai claimed that he had spoken to Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy, favouring BJP MLC CP Yogeshwar as the NDA candidate for the Channapatna by-election. "A group of BJP leaders, including myself, met the Union minister to discuss Yogeshwar's candidacy. Kumaraswamy has agreed to discuss the matter with his party high command, and the final decision will be made jointly. We know what Yogeshwar has in mind. With Union minister Pralhad Joshi, we have made all necessary efforts to support him," he said.

ST community outraged

Bommai observed that people across the state are angry with the Congress government, and the ST community felt betrayed by the corporation scam, which will have a bearing on the Sandur bypoll. Sandur is an ST reserved constituency. Former minister Nagendra claimed that there has been no corruption in the Valmiki Development Corporation, but the CM has stated that Rs 89 crore of Rs 187 crore was misappropriated and will be recovered, Bommai pointed out."So, who is telling the truth? If there was no corruption, why did the government take action?" he asked.

Cong may field Asuti, BJP may not want to rely fully on Bommai

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

WITH the schedule for the Shiggaon Assembly bypoll out, political activity has intensified in the constituency with local leaders touchbasing with top state leaders over selection of candidates. While Congress leaders expect their party could win the seat with the advantage of being in power, BJP is confident of retaining the high-profile constituency.

The Shiggaon bypoll has been necessitated by the resignation of sitting BJP MLA Basavaraj Bommai, who was elected to the Lok Sabha from Haveri this year. BJP had won the Assembly seat, which falls under the Dharwad parliamentary constituency, with a huge margin of nearly 36,000 votes in the 2023 Assembly polls. But in the parliamentary election, party candidate and Union minister Pralhad Joshi lagged behind by 8,598 votes against Congress' Vinod Asuti in this Assembly segment. This proved considerable support for Congress and points to an interesting battle in the bypoll.

Generally, the Grand Old Party fields a Muslim candidate from here, considering the significant number of Muslim votes.

But this time around, the party may change its strategy and field Asuti, who gained a significant lead in the Parliamentary election, despite Bommai's influence over the constituency. While Congress is sure of securing votes of minorities and a large chunk of SC and STs, it wants to experiment by fielding Asuti, who belongs to the OBC Kuruba community, to which Chief Minister Siddaramaiah also belongs.

Meanwhile, Bommai said, "Since Shiggaon is the constituency I represented, I carry a greater responsibility. Our party's Karnataka in-charge secretary, Radha Mohan Agarwal, visited the constituency and met local leaders and sought their feedback. We are fully prepared for the election and I am confident of receiving substantial support." He, however, added that the selection of the candidate was a decision of the party's core committee. But BJP, acknowledging its setback in the general election, could pick a surprise candidate and may not want to completely rely upon Bommai, sources said.

Siddu deeply involved in 'scam', must quit: Patra

NEW DELHI: As the MUDA chairman stepped down from his post on Wednesday, the BJP demanded that CM Siddaramaiah also resign immediately as he is "deeply embroiled" in the land "scam". MUDA chairman K Marigowda resigned from his post amid the row over alleged irregularities in the allotment of sites to Siddaramaiah's wife Parvathy BM. "MUDA chairman has tendered his resignation... I call upon Siddaramaiah that if you have the slightest morality left, you should step down immediately. You should not wait for today's sunset," BJP national spokesperson and MP Sambit Patra said at a press conference here. He said Marigowda's resignation and Siddaramaiah's wife "offering" to return the MUDA sites allocated to her make it clear that the chief minister is "deeply involved in the scam from head to toe". "There is no doubt about it," Patra said. The BJP leader also targeted Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, raising the issue of alleged irregularities in the allocation of a 5-acre land to a trust run by his family. PTI

RTI activist writes to Guv against probe by Lokayukta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

IN a fresh complaint and critical appeal, RTI activist Gangaraju has written to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, calling for immediate action against the Lokayukta in Mysuru and its officials, accusing them of misconduct and attempting to shield a major scam involving the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

Gangaraju's letter specifically points to Deputy Superintendent of Police Malteesh, alleging that the officer is working in collusion with MUDA officials and certain government bodies.

The activist raised concerns about the ongoing investigation into the MUDA scam, claiming that Malteesh is failing to maintain the confidentiality of the Lokayukta department. Gangaraju fears that crucial documentary evidence may be destroyed, which would hinder the investigation and compromise the integrity of the case. To prevent this, he has requested the governor to issue directives for the suspension of Malteesh.

The activist argued that such a step is necessary to ensure an impartial investigation and preserve the transparency expected from the Lokayukta. He also emphasised that the Lokayukta officials are not acting in accordance with the law, and that their actions could neutralise efforts to expose the MUDA scam, a case that has already attracted public and media attention.

Venugopal discusses bypoll strategy; Tukaram's kin may get Sandur ticket

EXPRESS NEW SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AICC General Secretary (Organisation) KC Venugopal here on Wednesday discussed strategies for the November 13 bypolls to Channapatna, Shiggaon and Sandur Assembly constituencies with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar.

The three leaders decided to wait and watch for the announcement of candidates by the BJP-JDS alliance before coming out with Congress' own list, sources said.

The three leaders had video meetings with the probable candidates and also district Congress presidents concerned. For Channapatna, the opinion of local leaders and party workers will be considered in declaring the candidate. If they propose Shivakumar's younger brother DK Suresh, the party has to consider him, the sources said.

They also discussed the likely move of BJP MLC CP Yogeshwar, who could contest as an independent if NDA denies him a ticket.

For Sandur, it was decided to give the ticket to one of the family members of Ballari MP E Tukaram. If BJP announces the ticket to former minister B Sriramulu, Congress may field Tukaram's wife E Annapoorna, otherwise the idea is to make their daughter Souparnika contest.

Though winning all the three seats is important for the party, the focus is more on Sandur as Tukaram held the seat previously. The leaders decided to finalise the Sandur candidate in two to three days, a source informed.

Talks were also held on how MUDA and ST Corporation scams have marred the party's image and how to deal with them as BJP is likely to bring them up during the bypoll campaigning.

They also discussed the meetings that PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara and Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa held that sent a wrong message of Siddaramaiah stepping down as CM.

'Marigowda's resignation victory for justice'

ACTIVIST Snehamayi Krishna, who is a complainant in the MUDA case, termed Marigowda's resignation a "victory for justice."

"This is just the beginning. Soon, others, including district in-charge minister HC Mahadevappa, will be forced to resign. Mahadevappa had allegedly helped his brother's son, Naveen Bose, get a site through a settlement deed, and he too must be made accountable," Krishna told reporters in Mysuru.

Krishna challenged Congress spokesperson M Lakshmana, who has filed a Lokayukta complaint against him, to submit evidence in support of his allegations.

"Lakshman's allegations are baseless. If he has proof, let him produce it. I will not yield to his threats," Krishna said.

BJP'S DRIVE CLOCKS 50 LAKH MEMBERS AHEAD OF BYPOLLS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AS the date of the bypolls draws near, the state BJP claims to have touched 50 lakh in memberships, and is hoping to win all the three seats. After its defeat in the 2023 Assembly polls, the BJP is now focusing on strengthening the organisation at the base.

BJP Karnataka general secretary NS Nandiesha Reddy told reporters that in 2014, they had started an online membership drive, and in 2019, a unique drive requiring a 'missed call' was launched. This time around, they have constituted a committee to monitor the drive. Reddy is also part of the committee. They have appointed a senior BJP leader in each district for the same. "Now, we are able to get details of members, including their address, booth number, email ID, and other details," he said.

According to Reddy, at the national level, membership has crossed 9.22 crore and the target is 11 crore. People in large numbers are eager to seek membership with the party. With this, the BJP has decided to extend membership drive till October 31. State BJP president BY Vijayendra will travel across the state to reach out to more citizens. Further, Reddy informed that in 2014, the state had 74.88 lakh members, and in 2019, they added 26 lakh. "This time, we were given a target of 1.25 crore and we are hoping to touch 1.75 crore members," he said.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Vijayendra said this year alone, they have crossed 50 lakh members, and are hoping to reach much higher numbers. "The number of new members reveals that more youth, women and people from the Backward Classes have joined our party. This shows their faith in us, and with this , we are also strengthening our party. This will help the BJP in the bypolls, where we will be able to win all three seats," he added. Vijayendra said they have identified 2-3 leaders at the booth level, to ensure that a maximum number of members arrive at each booth.

Despite red alert, drop in rainfall brings relief for TN

Depression expected to make landfall early Thursday due to shift of 50-75km in the path: Weather expert

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

THOUGH a red alert was issued for Chennai, Tiruvallur and other neighbouring districts on Wednesday, a change in the direction of the depression led to a significant drop in rainfall in most places since Wednesday morning. The drop in rainfall was due to the depression drifting northwest instead of the predicted west-northwest direction, a few weather bloggers said. The change in the direction of the weather system resulted in north Tamil Nadu receiving sparse rainfall and south Andhra Pradesh being pounded by showers, they said.

"But the possibility of very heavy rainfall for north Tamil Nadu cannot be ruled out until the depression makes the expected landfall early on Thursday," independent weather blogger K Srikanth said. "Due to a shift of 50-75km in the depression's path, the cloud convergence shifted towards southern Andhra Pradesh. The depression's circulation is currently unstructured, with the lower levels over the sea and the upper levels over land, causing a westward tilt," he said.

The depression over the southwest Bay of Bengal is moving west-northwest at a speed of 15kmph and is currently located 280 km east-southeast of Chennai. It is expected to continue in this direction and cross the north Tamil Nadu-south Andhra Pradesh coasts between Puducherry and Nellore, close to Chennai, during the early morning hours of October 17, said RMC on Wednesday evening. Since October 1, the state has received 138mm of rainfall which is 94% higher than the usual 71mm.

Five locations in Chennai and its neighbouring districts recorded extremely heavy rainfall in the 24 hours ending Wednesday morning. A total of 48 locations across the state received very heavy rainfall, while 21 places saw heavy rainfall. Cholavaram in Tiruvallur district received the highest rainfall with 30cm. Other places that registered extremely heavy rainfall include Red Hills (28cm) and Avadi (25cm) in Tiruvallur, and Kathivakkam (23cm) and Manali (21cm) in Chennai district.

'KIOCL has to return land, pay compensation'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER initiating the process of recovering forest land from HMT, the forest department is now working on taking back land and seeking due compensation from another public sector undertaking -- Kudremukh Iron Ore Company Ltd (KIOCL).

Forest Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Wednesday told reporters that communication between the department and KIOCL have intensified. The firm has to pay the forest department Rs 1,349.53 crore and hand over 1,334.33 hectares of forest and revenue land to the state government. "There is no question of the state government playing politics with the central government. We have communicated to the Centre and KIOCL that the latter is yet to clear the dues and penalty. The firm not just has to pay for utilising forest land for mining but also for submerging 340 hectares of forest land by raising the Lakhya dam's height," he said.

Referring to the statement made by Union Minister H D Kumaraswamy that KIOCL has already paid Rs 500 crore, Khandre said this is not enough. "KIOCL has to return the land as per the calculation of the Central Empowered Committee and pay compensation as per rules."

KIOCL has put forth an offer that the government allow it to carry out mining in Devadari Hills, and from the profits earned, the amount can be paid. But this is not acceptable, he said. "Devadari Hills is a virgin forest patch and it cannot be given for mining. Like any other mining company, KIOCL should participate in mining auctions."

Khandre added that this offer is similar to HMT's, which contended before the Supreme Court that since the company is bankrupt, the forest land in contention, worth Rs 14,300 crore, should be denotified so that it can be sold to pay back the money. "I agree that the state government had cleared KIOCL's proposal. But the file is stopped as they have to clear long pending dues, penalty interest and return land for afforestation," Khandre said.

A senior forest official said it has also been proposed to KIOCL to purchase and hand over 670 hectares of land for the Hubbali-Ankola railway line. "KIOCL is not accounting for 53 hectares of forest land that was lost laying pipes. The firm used 393 hectares of land for mining," the official said.

Interestingly, the issue of the two PSUs was raked up with the forest department after it was raised by Kumaraswamy. Khandre asserted that the issues were not political. "They are forest land. Some government officials have erred in the case of HMT. Inquiry orders have been issued. In the case of KIOCL, Kumaraswamy as a Union minister can help the Karnataka government get due compensation which will be used for afforestation and enhancing the state's green cover," Khandre said.

Petition in HC: Wakf board can't register Muslim marriages

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Court on Wednesday issued notices to the state government and the Karnataka State Wakf Board on a public interest litigation questioning the legality of the order issued by the state government in 2023, conferring powers to the Wakf Board to register Muslim marriages.

The division bench of Chief Justice N V Anjaria and Justice K V Aravind issued the notice after hearing the petition filed by Alam Pasha, founder of The Helping Citizen and People's Court, a non-governmental organisation.

The petitioner challenged the impugned order dated August 30, 2023, issued by the Minority, Wakf and Haj Department on the grounds that powers of marriage registration were conferred to the board though it is beyond the scope under the Wakf Act, 1995, and despite the Karnataka Marriages (Registration and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1976, which provides uniform law for the registration of marriages and certain other matters.

Govt mulling laws against food wastage: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO prevent food waste in hotels and banquet halls, the government is planning to enact laws against food wastage, said Food, Civil Supplies, and Consumer Affairs Minister KH Muniyappa.

Speaking at an event organised to celebrate World Food Day at Bangalore Agricultural University on Wednesday, the minister noted that to prevent wastage of food prepared in hotels and wedding halls, the government will soon draft a legislation, emphasizing that around Rs 90,000 crore worth of food is wasted annually in the country.

The minister highlighted the importance of teaching children not to waste food and how to utilize it properly.

He said that approximately 70% of the population in India relies on agriculture. The use of millets must increase, as it will help improve health. He stressed that the production of millets is decreasing, and farmers should focus on cultivating varieties like ragi, paddy and other grains. Currently, India has sufficient food reserves for three years and is strong enough to export to other countries, Muniyappa said.

He recounted that during his high school years from 1960 to 1965, there was a four-year drought, and he had then engaged in agriculture.

The minister added that under the leadership of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, the government had launched 'Anna Bhagya' scheme aimed at ensuring that no citizen goes to bed hungry.

World Food Day is celebrated on October 16. This day was established to honour the founding of the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations in 1945. The day aims to raise awareness about the importance of food, the right to adequate nutrition, and the eradication of hunger and poverty.

Hot air balloon rides in Hampi get approval, activists see red

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@Hosapete

WITH the Vijayanagara district administration and Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) permitting a luxury hotel to operate a hot air balloon in Hampi, conservationists and activists have demanded that it be cancelled.

A few months ago, the hotel located near Hampi started offering hot air balloon rides for its clients, but the operators began moving too close to the monuments and did not follow the guidelines laid down, the activists alleged.

Now once again, the Vijayanagar district administration has given permission for balloon rides. The activists are planning to write a letter to higher officials of the tourism department and ASI, stating that tourism promotion cannot be at the cost of heritage monuments.

Vijayanagar Deputy Commissioner MS Divakar told TNIE that the administration gave a No Objection Certificate to Evolve Back to operate hot air balloons in the surroundings of Hampi. "Every day, only one round is permitted and it is completely operated under ASI norms. As per conditions, they cannot enter the restricted zone in Hampi. If they violate rules, permission to operate hot air balloons will be immediately cancelled," he said.

Vishawanath Malagi, president, Hampi Monuments Protection Association, said the district administration and ASI had done the wrong thing by permitting hot air balloon operations in the surroundings of Hampi. When the hotel started operating hot air balloons earlier, the balloons moved very close to the monuments, especially Vijaya Vittala temple. After a gas cylinder burst near Virupaksha Temple premises two years ago, the administration strictly instructed that gas cylinders are prohibited in Hampi, but hot air balloons work on gas cylinders, he said. "If something untoward happens, who will be responsible?" Malagi asked.

1,494-ACRE FOREST LAND IN V'PURA GETS HERITAGE SITE TAG

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state government on Wednesday issued a notification declaring 1,494.38 acres of reserve forest land at Mamadapura Gram Panchayat in Vijayapura as Shri Siddeshwara Swamiji Biodiversity Heritage Site.

Forest Minister Eshwar B Khandre told reporters that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah will dedicate the heritage site to the people on January 2, the death anniversary of the swami. The forest cover in Kalyana Karnataka region is around 5% and in Vijayapura, it is less than 1%. This declaration will boost the preservation of green cover, the minister said.

A senior forest official said declaring the forest land as a heritage site will enhance protection measures of the flora and fauna. The total land under the forest department in Vijayapura is 2,000 hectares. The heritage site also has two tanks which are under the custody of the minor irrigation department.

"The proposal was made three months ago. There is no human habitation inside the forest patch. The Bahamani kingdom was based on the land and it was earlier covered with water bodies. In 200 hectares, the green cover has been increased using drip irrigation," the official said.

The official pointed out that Vijayapura has the least forest cover in the state. "Usually heritage sites and conservation reserves are declared around Bengaluru or in the Western Ghat region. It is not always that land in the plains get such a tag. ," the official added.

Khandre said the heritage site, a dry deciduous and scrub forest patch, houses leopards, Indian foxes, stripped hyenas, and other flora and fauna. Forest officials said in the coming times, the land will be promoted as an eco- tourism destination. A science centre and museum will also be established to showcase the biodiversity and contributions of Siddeshwara Swamiji.

Tiger capture mission called off

Tamed elephants take a break after the mission was withdrawn | EXPRESS

Madikeri: THE capture mission of a conflict tiger in Kodagu has been called off. Foresters traced the footprints of the tiger leading back to the forest region resulting in the withdrawal of the mission. A tiger was in conflict with the farmers of West Nammale village limits near Srimangala after it had claimed the lives of 16 cows in the region. A request to capture the conflict tiger was forwarded to the PCCF by Forest officials on orders from Virajpet MLA A S Ponnanna. Permission was granted for the same even as the department staff alongside tamed elephants started a combing and capture operation three days ago. However, on Tuesday evening, footprints of the tiger were found inside the forest region. State Wildlife Board member M Sanketh Poovaiah, who took charge of the operation, confirmed that the footprints found at the place where the tiger attacked the cattle and the footprints found at the place where the tiger entered back to the Brahmagiri Sanctuary matched. "A team under the leadership of Arvind, Zonal Forest Officer of the Wildlife Department, will monitor the movement of the tiger.

10k slots for spot booking? Govt keeps pilgrims guessing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Pathanamthitta

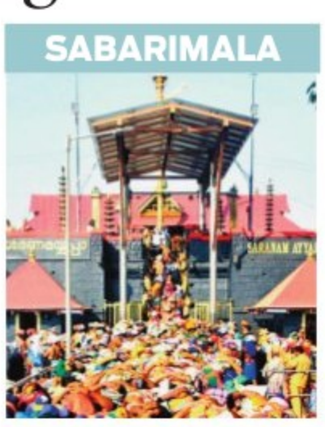
THE Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB) on Wednesday started virtual queue bookings for the upcoming annual pilgrimage season at Sabarimala temple with a daily limit of 70,000 pilgrims, 10,000 less from an earlier decided limit.

The government had earlier capped the daily booking limit at 80,000 devotees. While the TDB on Wednesday said a decision on the remaining 10,000 slots will be taken later, official sources hinted that the slots are being set aside for spot bookings, even though the term 'spot booking' may not be used explicitly.

Last year too, 70,000 bookings were allocated for devotees online.

Speculations about the government allowing spot bookings emerged after Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan, while responding to a submission by MLA V Joy, informed the assembly on Tuesday that online registration would not be mandatory for darshan at the hill shrine.

Though he did not use the words 'spot booking', the CM said devotees coming to Sabarimala without any knowledge about the system and not registering online will also be ensured darshan' without hindrances.



The government's U-turn had come a day before various Hindu organisations were to intensify their protests against its decision to not allow spot bookings.

Earlier this week, the state government had ruled out spot booking for Sabarimala darshan, inviting sharp criticism from various corners. The UDF, as well as LDF ally CPI, had urged the government to reconsider the decision. The CPI had also warned that the the RSS would exploit the dissent brewing against the move for political gains.

A TDB official said though there is a strict mandate for virtual booking, the board anticipates a certain number of pilgrims arriving without prior registration. These reserved slots, said the official, will be allocated to such individuals.

The earlier decision to restrict the number of pilgrims was taken by the government after a series of consultations with different departments, including the police.

TDB president P S Prasanth said, "In fact, the police recommendation was to limit the number to 70,000 per day. The board decided to enhance it to help as many devotees as possible."

CHENNAI'S CLAIMS ON FLOOD PREVENTION NEED A CLOSER LOOK

EVERY monsoon, there is one question that seeks an answer: has Chennai learned any lesson from the 2015 floods? As the Northeast monsoon starts with a bang, several parts of Chennai have once again witnessed heavy waterlogging, bringing back the nightmares of devastation wrought by intense rainfall and poor reservoir management in December 2015. The depression that had formed on Bay of Bengal and expected to bring misery to the city seems to have largely moved away. But the next two-three months are extremely critical for Chennai, which looks ill-prepared for any flood-like situation.

The flood prevention methods suggested by the V Thiruppugazh committee are being implemented and nearly two-thirds of the integrated stormwater drain project has been completed. It has covered nearly 90 percent of the core city areas. The chief minister said Chennai and its suburbs would get a permanent solution when the mega drain project, funded by multilateral agencies and implemented in phases, gets completed by 2025. But the long delay in getting the rainwater drained out in the last few days has raised doubts on the government's claims. The civic authorities ended up using over 1,000 motor pumps to drain the water. Yet, some parts of the city remained flooded.

The government has cast a blind eye towards several other issues. There are no serious efforts to remove encroachments in marshlands even as new ones keep coming up. Post 2015 floods, the auditor general revealed that between 1989 and 2016, the Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority had approved 195 colonies on 175 hectares that were parts of numerous water bodies. Years of rapid urbanisation and unplanned growth have played havoc. The streets without drains depend on manual efforts to pump out water, while the drains along other streets get clogged, thanks to unbridled littering by the public and businesses. Buckingham Canal, which carries rainwater from across the city to the sea, is not deep enough to carry floodwater if there is an intense spell of rain. Over the years, it has been grotesquely truncated. The lakes, floodplains and canals vanishing to encroachment have taken a toll. Floods are now a fact of life in Chennai. The government will have to draw up a comprehensive plan alongside the drain project to manage and mitigate the risks that floods bring.

NEW GLOBAL HEALTH GOAL THAT'S WORTH PURSUING

A Lancet Commission report on 'Investing in Health' has set a global target of cutting the probability of premature death (before age 70) by half by 2050. The authors of the report, including members from Public Health Foundation of India, call it "50-by-50". It explains that while on average a 2019-born person had a 31 percent chance of dying before turning 70 years of age, if the "50-by-50" goal is achieved, a 2050-born individual would expect to have only a 15 percent chance of dying before turning 70.

It lays down 15 priority conditions that need to be focused on through effective universal health coverage (UHC). Eight are about infections and maternity issues such as neonatal care, lower respiratory tract infections, diaorrheal diseases, HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis, malaria, childhood cluster of diseases, and maternal conditions; seven are about non-communicable diseases (NCDs) and injuries including atherosclerotic cardiovascular diseases, haemorrhagic stroke, NCDs linked to infections, linked to tobacco use, diabetes, road injury and suicide.

Although it is a golden opportunity for India's health sector—including mental health—to rally around, serious challenges persist. The average life expectancy in India was 67.24 years in 2022—as against 84.45 in Japan, 78.21 in China and 76.33 in the US in 2021. Cutting early mortality pertaining to deaths due to NCDs linked to cardiovascular issues, tobacco consumption, diabetes, road injuries and suicide will need not just medical treatment, but education and awareness for prevention, too.

On August 2, Union minister of state for health, Anupriya Patel, told the Lok Sabha that the doctor-population ratio in the country was 1:836, better than the World Health Organization standard of 1:1000. But the ratio does not help by itself. It is the equitable reach and penetration of medical services to the vast Indian population—including those in remote areas—that matters. Government health insurance covers just about an estimated 40 percent of the population. And, unfortunately, most doctors, psychiatrists and psychologists in India are concentrated in urban and semi-urban areas, leaving a large rural outback lacking adequate medical or counselling services. UHC means all get access to quality health services without financial hardship. Much needs to be done to ensure healthier, longer and happier lives for all 140 crore Indians.

QUICK TAKE

NOW TO BE A MAHARATNA

HINDUSTAN Aeronautics Limited (HAL) has recently been given the Maharatna status—the 14th central public sector enterprise to be recognised so. With the tag comes more operational and financial autonomy—most crucially, on decisions regarding capital expenditure, joint ventures and hiring. But the worth of this elevation should be eventually measured in how the ₹28,162-crore behemoth manages to improve its project management. Last year, the auditor general and a parliamentary committee came down heavily on HAL for inordinate delays in production of the Tejas fighter jet, and serious lapses in its engine design and development. The strategically-important CPSE needs to use its new autonomies to fix these lapses.

Dining with others is different from being part of the cooking process. Rahul is trying to leverage both. It's hard to predict whether it will fetch him electoral gains

ANOTHER ROUND OF KITCHEN POLITICS FOR RAHUL GANDHI

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author of Strange Burdens: The Politics and Predicaments of Rahul Gandhi

MANDAR PARDIKAR

LAST week, Rahul Gandhi visited the kitchen of Shahu Patole, a Dalit who is also a retired government officer and a Marathi writer. The two made a dish together besides making small and big talk. Patole was the cook in the video, his wife was in the background kneading dough, and Rahul stood like an inveterate cultural apprentice. It seemed the Congress leader was observing the flames of India's discriminatory food practices more than absorbing the fragrance of the dish or noting the foundation of its recipe.

This is not the first time Rahul has been inside a kitchen with cameras in tow. Cooking and food in recent years have emerged as the cornerstone of his cultural politics. He made a Bihari mutton dish and bantered about the 'masala' of politics with Lalu Prasad Yadav. On New Year's Eve, he made his mum's favourite marmalade. When he joked that his saffron opponents too could get some of the jam made, his mother sharply retorted, "They will throw it at us."

Very early, before the Tamil Nadu assembly polls, Rahul was with a Tamil YouTube channel trying out mushroom dum biryani. Similarly, he made an exotic bamboo chicken dish with Telangana women during the Bharat Jodo Yatra. As it cooked, he was told it was a delicacy specially made for a plebeian goddess. When it was served, his party leaders built a conversation around it. They said if they cooked and ate together, they could win elections together.

During the yatra, Rahul also had a Maharashtra team meeting with a bhakri meal. At another place, with kanda bhajjis, he gave lessons in martial art and mental resilience. He then cooked chole bhature with an army veteran, Naik Deepchand, who had lost both his legs and a right arm in the Kargil operation. He discussed the Agniveer scheme with him. In May 2023, he rushed into the Delhi University canteen to have lunch with students. He also tried golgappas in Delhi, ate kulfis by the roadside in Bengaluru, and on yet another YouTube channel, said he "tends to be a non-vegetarian".

As the bromance with M K Stalin took shape in Chennai, he carried mysore pak from Coimbatore for him. Most recently, in August, he went to Srinagar to cement a secular alliance with the Abdullahs and treated himself to the Kashmiri wazwan. In Haryana, he propounded jalebi economics.

This kitchen politics of Rahul, if one were to invert a familiar phrase, has had a far greater impact than his futile temple visits. To appear devout was his unformed cultural strategy in a different phase, where the strange and twisted rules of religion and caste often helped his hawkish and virulent opponents tie him up in knots. Getting less worked up about the sanctum sanctorum of a temple, he has now tried to enter the sacred space in homes—the hearth—as an entry point to hearts.

Dining with others on formal or informal occasions is different from getting into a kitchen and being part of the cooking process. Rahul is leveraging both. Politicians across the globe frequently walk into cafes to either grab a sandwich, get a coffee or pick up an ice cream to create camaraderie. But food is not as stratified or bound by rules of religion and caste in western democracies as it is in India. It is a complicated terrain to navigate here. When the finance minister says she does not eat onions and garlic, or the prime minister says he fasts during Navratri, it reflects this complexity.

If somebody is lynched for keeping beef in their home or if pork can create communal tension, then the violence that food can cause in India is more than apparent. Here, food is often bottled in strange categories of pure and impure. It was illustrated in the case of the Tirupati laddus recently. ISKCON's reluctance to serve eggs for midday meals in schools has been more about the sect's beliefs.

In spite of all this, food is a relatively more accessible category for Rahul with a complicated pedigree, where his claims of a particular religion or caste has been severely challenged in the past. Food creates a wider elbow room and a universality for his politics. It essentially breaks down barriers, when he approaches food as a life-sustaining necessity and not as an extension of a ritual. Ingredients that go into any food are universal and the acids that dissolve them in our bodies are common. This approach helps surmount the cultural restrictions Rahul has so far encountered. Religion puts taste and pleasure in the guilt category.

Food also helps Rahul create accessibility and intimacy, which helps shed the image of a distant and elite dynast. The kitchen makes possible the conversation of social change far easier than being reformist or a conformist in the contentious caste and religious space. His approach may not bring people of various castes and classes to sit together and eat—sahabojana—however, it creates a personal ideal in our cynical times.

Whether this will fetch Rahul electoral gains is difficult to predict, but it is obviously in greater alignment with his ideological choices. Food and kitchens also automatically showcase the diversity of India, where spices change every 20 km and there are as many recipes and methods as there are households. It also puts women at the centre, although people Rahul has cooked with so far have mostly been men. That perhaps breaks a gender stereotype too in a conservative setting.

This kitchen politics is bound to bring its share of criticism. How do people feel when their kitchens are invaded and exposed? Will it be a violation of their dignity? The slick modular kitchen where Rahul made marmalade is very different from the cramped rural kitchen of a poor Dalit. Will all this be seen as a staged event where the poor are showpieces? Why can't Rahul do the same kitchen exercise without the cameras on?

Is he using this to overcome his political struggles and seek personal salvation? Or is this about feeding social media? After all, the Congress's social media engagement has witnessed exponential growth. Will he be accused of merely tapping into a fad, and of exhibitionism? Will this further make him a 'less serious' politician?

WHEN NOBEL IS USED AS A POLITICAL TOOL

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

THE Japanese hibakusha movement began in 1956, a decade after the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atom bombings, when the survivors decided to band together to inform the world about the sheer brutality of nuclear bombs. Nihon Hidankyo, a federation of hibakusha organisations, was founded that year, at the second World Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs held in response to ongoing US nuclear tests.

This year, 68 years later, Nihon Hidankyo was given the Nobel Peace Prize—which it has richly deserved for at least half a century. The hibakusha, who in July 2017 ratified the adoption of a proposed 'Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons', have a long, storied history. This is how it began.

Days after the bombings in August 1945, photographers from a Japanese newsreel service, Nippon Eigasha (Japan Movie Corporation), shot extensive black-and-white footage in the two cities. The US then sent in First Lieutenant Daniel McGovern to make colour films. He was conscientised by what he saw as the inscrutable sufferings of the Japanese. Later that year, the US military halted filming by Nippon Eigasha.

In March-April 1946, Americans seized the Japanese newsreel team's footage for shipment to the US. McGovern was ordered back to the mainland in June 1946. He later told NBS—in its revelatory November 2023 documentary, Atomic Cover-Up—he "hand-carried to the US the negative and a print of the Japanese black-and-white film". He was told "this material could not be released to the news media nor to the general public".

The Japanese newsreel footage remained buried until 1970, when a 16-minute film titled Hiroshima-Nagasaki: August, 1945 was aired on US public television. But McGovern's own colour footage, 90,000 feet of it, remained unseen. In February 1947, the Atomic Energy Commission classified the footage as 'Secret', then elevated it to 'Top Secret'.

In 1982, the Japanese began a grassroots movement named the Ten-Feet Campaign—named after tens of thousands of Japanese who emptied their savings to buy from the US government the black-and-white footage, including that shot from the bombers, for $10 per foot.

This was the footage sent by the hibakusha to a group of us who had banded together in Bombay in 1983 under the rubric of GROUND (Group for Nuclear Disarmament). Its members were youth—journalists and college students—who went round to schools showing students the film and discussing with them the imperative for denuclearisation in the subcontinent.

Despite its growing popularity, GROUND died early. Communists first took membership in droves and took over the functioning, forcing the group's dismantling—not due to any fundamental opposition to subcontinental denuclearisation but motivated by doctrinairism, because GROUND had been started by anti-Stalinist Trotskyites.

Barack Obama received the peace prize in 2009, long before he had the creds to deserve it. The former director of the Nobel Institute wrote in his autobiography that they hoped to proactively "strengthen the president". Many other choices for the Nobel peace award seem politically motivated

The hibakusha were known worldwide. So, why were they chosen this year? Could it be the Nobel Peace Prize's longtime politicisation, history of purblindness, and sheer opportunism? Among the undeserving but politically expedient figures who received it were 1973's Henry Kissinger (the grey eminence commonly known as the Butcher of Vietnam). Aung San Suu Kyi was given the award in 1991 "for her non-violent struggle for democracy and human rights", but her obdurate silence years later on the Rohingya crisis provoked demands for its recall.

Barack Obama received the prize in 2009 on the 12th day of his presidency, long before he had the creds to deserve it. He got the Nobel for his "tremendous efforts to strengthen international diplomacy and cooperation between peoples", but his acceptance speech was all about a "just war"—and, in the following years, he became one of the most warmongering of US presidents. The disgruntled former director of the Nobel Institute wrote in his autobiography that the Nobel committee had hoped to proactively "strengthen the president".

What do the hibakusha have to do with the political utilitarianism of the Nobel committee? Think Iran, Russia, North Korea—and think the US, which has been stoking these conflicts from their various beginnings and has the most to gain from them, whichever way they go. In May 2024, Iran announced that while it had "no decision to build a nuclear bomb, but…in the case of an attack on our nuclear facilities by the Zionist regime, our deterrence will change".

According to the global diplomatic buzz, Israel has never been closer than today to exercising upon Iran its Samson Option—massive retaliation with nukes, of which it reportedly has many in cruise missiles, aircraft, artillery and atomic landmines in the Golan Heights. In August 2024, Russia obliquely hinted at a possible nuclear response to Ukraine attacking its nuclear facilities. North Korea's latest threat to use nuclear weapons against South Korea was issued barely a week ago.

Never before has the world been closer to multilocational nuclear wars. But no one wants nukes—not even the Western military-industrial complex fattened on a century of wars, because a nuclear war would end the military-industrial complex.

Even Toshiyuki Mimaki, co-chair of Nihon Hidankyo, seemed nonplussed by the Nobel Peace Prize. "In Gaza, bleeding children are being held (by their parents). It's like Japan 80 years ago." He said that "the dedicated individuals working in Gaza" should have received it, specifically mentioning the UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East, which was also a nominee.

This is why we have this paradox: giving the Peace Prize to an exemplary awardee, but with a political motivation.

Cabinet hikes MSP for rabi crops, DA 3%

Approval also given for construction of a new rail-road bridge on river Ganga in Varanasi with an outlay of ₹2,642 cr

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

IN a pre-Diwali bonanza to farmers and Central government employees and pensioners, the government on Wednesday approved increase in the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for key rabi crops for the 2025-26 marketing season and hiked the Dearness Allowance (DA) and Dearness Relief (DR) by 3 per cent with a financial implication of ₹9,448 crore.

In another decision, the Union Cabinet also gave its approval for constructing a new rail-road bridge on the river Ganga in Varanasi with an outlay of ₹2,642 crore.

Briefing the media after the meeting of the Union Cabinet, which was chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Information and Broadcasting Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said that the new MSP rates aim to ensure farmers receive a fair value for their harvests.

Vaishnaw said the MSP for wheat was raised by ₹150 per quintal, moving from ₹2,275 to ₹2,425. Mustard saw an increase of ₹300 per quintal, bringing its MSP to ₹5,950 from ₹5,650, while the MSP for gram rose by ₹210 to ₹5,650 per quintal from ₹5,440.

The minister informed that the highest MSP hike was given to rapeseed and mustard, with a rise of ₹300 per quintal (from ₹5,650 to ₹5,950), followed by lentil (masur), which saw an increase of ₹275 per quintal (from ₹6,425 to ₹6,700).

"The biggest factor is that the prices should be at least 50 per cent above the cost. The cost of six rabi crops has been decided on the basis of projections of Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices," he said.

The MSP acts as a safety net for farmers, ensuring they are shielded from abrupt price drops. It plays a crucial role in maintaining food security and serves as a reference for market price discovery. By providing financial stability, the system encourages better agricultural production.

Meanwhile, with the 3 per cent hike, the Dearness Allowance and Dearness Relief are now increased to 53 per cent. Vaishnaw added that this change was expected to benefit over a crore Central government employees and pensioners, with employees also likely to receive arrears, as it will be implemented from July 1, 2024.

The Dearness Allowance is a percentage of employees' basic salary designed to help mitigate the effects of inflation on their living expenses. The allowance is typically revised every six months (March 1 and July 1) every year to reflect fluctuations in the cost of living index.

Infra boost

The new rail and road bridge on Ganga, which was approved by the Cabinet on Wednesday, would consist of four rail lines and six-lane highway, Vaishnaw said, adding that the project would require an investment of ₹2,642 crore and the government expects this route to help save diesel imports of about 8 crore litre per year.

"The project will help improve capacity, efficiency and support the region's socio-economic growth. Apart from relief in congestion in the stretch, 27.83 MTPA (metric tonne per annum) freight is anticipated on the proposed stretch," the minister said.

The project covering two districts — Varanasi and Pandit Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Nagar (Earlier known as Mughalsarai) in Uttar Pradesh — will increase the existing network of Indian Railways by about 30 kilometres.

Currently, the 137-year-old Malviya Bridge at Kashi is connecting the northern, eastern and western states. The two-line rail and two-lane road bridge between Varanasi and Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Nagar is oversaturated and there is a need for a replacement and reduced congestion, Vaishnaw said.

"The project will not only provide better connectivity to pilgrims, tourists and local residents but also create new employment and business opportunities," Prime Minister Narendra Modi said in a post on X in Hindi.

Govt depts told to solve pensioners' woes in 21 days

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday directed all departments to redress pensioners' grievances within 21 days. In the cases where redressal requires more time, the departments must provide an interim response, as per an official statement.

The decision follows a review of the Centralised Pension Grievances Redress and Monitoring System portal. The new guidelines emphasise a coordinated approach across ministries, ensuring that grievances cannot be dismissed without proper resolution.

A grievance cannot be closed without its conclusive redressal and an action-taken report should be filed in with the supporting information and documents at the time of closure of the grievance, said the statement from the personnel ministry.

"Ministries/departments shall undertake monthly review of pension-related grievances, pending on the portal to ensure the qualitative redressal of grievances within the prescribed time limit," it said. The nodal public grievance officers have been asked to "analyse the trend of grievances and conduct a root cause analysis to check the incidence of grievances," it added.

As per the guidelines, an applicant can file an appeal against the redressal of his grievance within 30 days of closure of the grievance. It will be disposed of within 30 days by the Appellate Authority.

Additionally, the department of administrative reforms and public grievances is executing Special Campaign 4.0 to promote 'Swachhata' (cleanliness) and reduce backlog in government offices.

The campaign 4.0 is implemented on digitisation, improving or enhancing office spaces, timely scrap disposal, weeding or preservation of office records, inclusivity measures and environment-friendly activities.

As of mid-October, 800 public grievances have been addressed, the statement said.

Ministries/ departments shall undertake monthly review of pension-related grievances pending on the portal to ensure the qualitative redressal of grievances within the prescribed time

Reshuffle of guvs likely after assembly polls

Already served over 3-5 years

The buzz of reshuffle assumes significance as several governors and lieutenant governors have already served for over three to five years, especially in BJP-ruled Uttar Pradesh, Left-ruled Kerala, Jammu and Kashmir and the UTs of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, and Dadar and Nagar Haveli and Daman Diu. In J&K, L-G Manoj Sinha has been in office for over four years. Speculation is rife that former BJP national general secretary Ram Madhav may replace him.

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Central government is likely to reshuffle gubernatorial positions in several states and Union Territories either by this month or next month.

The buzz of reshuffle assumes significance as several governors and lieutenant governors have already served for over three to five years, especially in BJP-ruled Uttar Pradesh, Left-ruled Kerala, Jammu and Kashmir and the Union Territories of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, and Dadar and Nagar Haveli and Daman Diu.

In Jammu and Kashmir, where statehood is expected to be restored after the assembly elections, L-G Manoj Sinha has been in office for over four years.

Speculations are rife that Ram Madhav, former BJP national general secretary who has close RSS links and has played a key role in the assembly elections, is likely to replace Sinha.

Arif Mohammad Khan has served as Kerala governor for more than five years. A source hinted at a possible new role for him either in gubernatorial position or something else because of his scholarly work.

Devendra Kumar Joshi, L-G of Andaman and Nicobar Islands since October 2017, may either retire or get new role in Kerala or Jammu and Kashmir.

Thawar Chand Gehlot, the governor of Congress-ruled Karnataka, and Acharya Devvrat, the governor of BJP-ruled Gujarat, have been in their positions for more than three years.

Goa governor PS Sreedharan Pillai, who assumed office on July 15, 2021, and Haryana governor Bandaru Dattatreya, who is in office since July 15, 2021, have also completed more than three years of their tenure on gubernatorial assignments. So are Madhya Pradesh governor Mangubhai C Patel Uttarakhand governor Gurmit Singh.

Uttar Pradesh governor Anandiben Patel has also completed over five years. RN Ravi of Tamil Nadu and PS Sreedharan Pillai of Goa have also served for over three years.

Sources say the reshuffle may take place either after the formation of new governments in Jammu and Kashmir and Haryana, or after assembly elections in Maharashtra and Jharkhand.

There is also a possibility of senior BJP leaders, who did not contest the Lok Sabha elections, being considered for gubernatorial or L-G positions.

The names of former MPs Ashwani Choubey, VK Singh and Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi are also doing the rounds.

SC defers hearing on contempt plea against Gujarat over demolitions

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday deferred hearing on a contempt plea against Gujarat authorities for allegedly illegally demolishing residential and religious structures in the state despite an interim stay and without its prior nod.

A three-judge bench of Justices B R Gavai, PK Mishra and KV Viswanathan adjourned the plea for three weeks. The bench was hearing a contempt petition against the Gir Somnath district collector and other officials over the alleged illegal demolition of Dargah Mangroli Shah Baba, Eidgah and several other structures located in Prabhas Patan, Veraval and Gir Somnath. The plea seeks initiation of contempt proceedings against state authorities for alleged violation of SC's September 17 order that there shall be no demolition of properties, including of those accused of crimes, without permission.

Senior lawyer Sanjay Hegde, appearing for the petitioner, said the state has filed a response to the petition and he wanted to file the rejoinder.

"Their defense is that [the structure demolished] was near the Arabian Sea. What prevented them from seeking permission from your lordships," Hegde said. On October 4, SC cautioned the authorities, saying it will ask them to restore the structures if it finds that they acted in contempt of its recent order against such action.

The bench, however, refused to pass an order of status quo on the demolition near the Somnath temple. On September 28, authorities in Gujarat carried out a demolition drive to clear encroachments on government land near the temple in Gir Somnath district. "If we find contempt, we will order them to rebuild the structures," the court had clarified in the order.

'Can a fugitive file plea under Art 32?'

The Centre on Wednesday questioned the maintainability of a plea filed by controversial Islamic preacher Zakir Naik, seeking clubbing of FIRs filed in different states over his purported statements during the Ganpati festival in 2012. It questioned if Naik, a person who was declared a fugitive, could file a plea under Article 32 of the Constitution.

Verdict on Sec 6A of Citizenship Act today

The top court will pronounce the verdict on a batch of petitions challenging the constitutional validity of Section 6A of the Citizenship Act of 1955, on Thursday. The provision was introduced to give effect to the Assam Accord, which provides framework to recognise migrants in Assam as Indian citizens or to expel them based on date of migration.

With 446 species, Kaziranga emerges India's second butterfly diversity hub

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

ASSAM'S Kaziranga National Park, famous for its one-horned rhino population, has also earned the distinction of being the second butterfly diversity hub, after Namdapha National Park in Arunachal Pradesh.

Years of research carried out by Dr Monsoon Jyoti Gogoi, a young scientist from Kaziranga, has brought to the fore that more than 446 butterfly species have been reported from the park.

Gogoi, who has been studying butterflies in the region since 2007, shared that the first-ever 'Butterfly Conservation Meet-2024', held in September, focused on detailed butterfly records. The meet attracted approximately 40 butterfly enthusiasts from across India including participants from the North Eastern Hill University, Cotton University, various Assam colleges, Maharashtra forest department, Corbett Foundation, and key members of the North East Butterflies group.

"Kaziranga now ranks second in butterfly species diversity among India's protected areas, after Namdapha National Park," said Gogoi, adding, "This record is particularly significant given Kaziranga's location outside the Himalayan and Patkai mountain ranges, making its high species diversity a remarkable achievement."

He said that apart from the national park, the Panbari reserve Forest in Kaziranga is also home to a diverse range of butterfly species.

A new pictorial guidebook on butterflies, authored by Gogoi, documents 446 species of butterflies recorded in Kaziranga, 18 of which are new in India.

The new records include Burmese Threering, Glassy Cerulean, Dark-bordered Hedge Blue, Andaman Yellow Banded Flat, Ferrar's Cerulean, Great Red-vein Lancer, Peacock Oakblue, Singled-lined Flash, Yellow-tailed Awlking, White Palm Bob, Dark-dusted Palm Dart, Clavate Banded Demon, Pale-marked Ace, Yellow Onyx, Long-winged Hedge Blue, Ace sp, Hill Ace and Dwarf Banded Demon.

Gaurab Nandi Das from the Czech Republic gave insights on 'taxonomy of butterflies' at the meet, which aims to elevate awareness around the importance of butterfly conservation in Kaziranga.

Global initiative aims to make oral care affordable

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AS India faces a significant burden of oral diseases affecting over 70% of its population, a global initiative was launched on Wednesday to address the oral health burden and strengthen health systems to ensure that high-quality oral health services are available, affordable and accessible to all.

Despite being preventable, oral diseases, including oral cancer, which accounts for over 30% of all cancers in the country, continue to be under-addressed, leading to increased healthcare costs and worsening public health outcomes.

This four-year project CORE, an initiative for Community Focussed Oral Health Research for Equity, will cover over 14 lakh marginalised communities in Delhi, Gujarat, Haryana and Rajasthan.

Led in India by the Public Health Foundation of India (PHFI), in partnership with Jamia Millia Islamia University and Jan Swasthya Sewa Sansthan, in collaboration with institutes like Queen Mary University of London, University College London and many other globally renowned oral health experts, the project aims to develop a comprehensive strategy to reduce the oral health burden in India, as well as in other low- and middle-income countries such as Kenya, Colombia, and Brazil.

Speaking to this newspaper, K Srinath Reddy, Professor of Public Health, PHFI, said, "Good oral health is essential for every person on earth throughout life. Besides teeth being directly linked to nutrition, gum disease triggers inflammation, affecting many organs, including the heart, blood vessels, and the brain. From caries to cancer, there are many oral diseases which should not just be prevented but also provided restorative care."

Despite the widespread need for accessible oral health services, most countries have not included them in the universal health coverage programme.

"This affects vulnerable sections of the population deprived of needed care. The multi-country CORE study, which will map the unmet community needs for oral health services, will help to spotlight the extent of equity gaps in oral health services and catalyse the inclusion of essential oral health services in national programmes for universal health coverage," said Dr Reddy, who launched the project.

Indians have a relatively high incidence of dental caries in permanent teeth compared to the entire South Asian population, with about a third of the Indian population experiencing caries that require dental treatment. Caries also known as tooth decay or cavities, is a common disease when bacteria in the mouth produce acid that dissolves teeth enamel.

Approximately 16% of the Indian population suffers from severe periodontal (disease of gums) problems. In India, oral cancer accounts for over 30% of all cancers in the country, with age-adjusted rates being as high as 20 per 100,000 population.

The project CORE aims to emphasise meaningful community engagement, reaching out to the most marginalised populations and capacity building to ensure the interventions are sustainable and impactful.

PM Modi with other BJP leaders at a meet on upcoming Assembly elections | PTI

THE BJP Central Election Committee (CEC) meet, chaired by PM Narendra Modi, on Wednesday discussed candidate selection for the Maharashtra assembly polls. The meet is on till filing of this report.

The meeting, held at the party headquarters, emphasised on selecting candidates based on their image and winnability in their respective constituencies. The CEC thoroughly analysed potential candidates for the 288-member assembly. It also considered the importance of caste dynamics and social engineering to ensure a balanced representation.

The discussions included how to accommodate allies in the seat-sharing arrangements, with Ajit Pawar-led NCP and Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena expressing desire for a larger share of seats within the ruling MahaYuti alliance.

Sources said that candidates for more than 160 assembly seats were likely finalised. On Tuesday, the CEC had discussed the candidates selection for the Jharkhand assembly polls. PM Modi and other senior leaders of state and central units of the party were also also present at the meet.

The Maharashtra BJP core committee had initiated discussions with the central leadership on the seats held by party MLAs and candidates aspiring to contest. The meeting, attended by Home Minister Amit Shah and other leaders, took place at the residence of BJP national president JP Nadda.

Sources indicated that the BJP might field candidates on 155-160 seats, leaving the remaining ones for its allies.

The BJP is likely to release the final candidate lists for Maharashtra and Jharkhand either on Thursday or Friday. Sources said that selection of candidates for almost all seats in Maharashtra have been finalised. One the seat-share deal with allies is finalised, the party will announce the lists for both states. Sources said that consensus has already been reached on approximately 250-260 seats among MahaYuti partners.

Voting is scheduled on November 20 and the counting will take place on November 23. On Tuesday, the BJP poll panel discussed over 80% of the assembly seats in Jharkhand and candidates for the first phase of polls were approved.

DECIDE

The BJP is expected to announce the names for the 43 seats after the panel finalises seat-sharing in Maharashtra and its candidates' list.

Omar 1st CM of J&K UT, Congress not part of govt

Dy CM Surinder Choudhary

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

NATIONAL Conference vice-president Omar Abdullah on Wednesday took over as the first elected Chief Minister of Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory after Article 370 was read down. In a bid to maintain a balance between Kashmir and Jammu regions, Omar appointed giant killer Surinder Choudhary, who defeated J&K BJP president Ravindra Raina in Nowshera in the Jammu province, as the deputy CM.

However, NC's pre-poll alliance partner Congress chose not to join the government claiming it has decided to sit out till statehood is restored. Sources said the Congress is miffed with the NC's offer of one cabinet berth as the grand old party, which has six MLAs, has been eyeing two berths.

Since J&K is a UT with 90-member Assembly, there could be nine ministers including the CM. However, Omar filled only six posts on Wednesday, leaving three posts vacant.

Two of the four ministers are from the Valley — Sakeena Itto, NC MLA Damhal Hanjipora in south Kashmir's Kulgam, and Javed Dar, NC MLA Rafiabad in north Kashmir's Baramulla.

From the INDIA bloc, Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi, SP leader Akhilesh Yadav, AAP MP Sanjay Singh, DMK's Kanimozhi and D Raja, and CPI(M) veteran Prakash Karat attended the oath-taking ceremony.

Equal share to Jammu

To allay fears that Jammu may be neglected, Omar gave 2 ministerial berths to the region, apart from deputy CM post. Javed Rana and Satish Sharma are the two ministers from Jammu

Avoid traffic stoppage: Omar to police

Immediately after taking over as first Chief Minister of Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory, Omar Abdullah in his first order directed the J&K police chief to refrain from establishing a 'green corridor' or traffic stoppage when he moves anywhere by road. "I have spoken to DG police that there is to be no "green corridor" or traffic stoppage when I move anywhere by road," Omar tweeted. Omar, 54, was sworn-in as first CM of J&K UT by Lt Governor Manoj Sinha at SKICC, here. A deputy CM and four ministers also took oath of office and secrecy with him. Security usually stops vehicular movement to allow passage of VIPs.

Congress loses ground in Jammu

Congress, which was pitched in direct fight with BJP in Jammu, has lost the ground in the region in the 2024 Assembly polls. The party, which had bounced back in parliamentary polls by increasing its vote share by 10 per cent in Jammu despite not winning any of the two Lok Sabha seats it contested, has faced a debacle here. It could only win one seat from, where from it contested 32 seats and was a direct competitor to BJP. Out of 43 seats, the grand old party could win only one (Rajouri) seat. In a suprirsing development, all 21 Hindu candidates fielded by the party lost the elections.

New guidelines for police officers' recruitment

Ahead of the government formation in Jammu and Kashmir, the Lt Governor administration last week introduced new guidelines for the recruitment of police officers under the Jammu and Kashmir Police (Gazetted) Service Recruitment Rules, 2024. According to the new rules, recruitment will be conducted through both direct appointments and promotions. Direct recruitment will be managed by the Jammu and Kashmir Public Service Commission (JKPSC), while promotions will be overseen by the Departmental Promotion Committee (DPC). The newly classified cadres include General, Telecommunication, Ministerial, Stenography.

MahaYuti says Oppn scared of Maha plans, MVA peeved

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AHEAD of the Maharashtra assembly polls, Chief Minister Eknath Shinde on Wednesday presented a "report card" of the MahaYuti government's work, accusing the opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) of adopting an anti-development vision. Shinde addressed a joint press conference flanked by Deputy CMs Devendra Fadnavis and Ajit Pawar, a day after the Election Commission announced the state poll schedule.

"We are submitting this report card to people because MahaYuti has done an effective work in comparison with MVA's two and a half years of government. MVA had an anti-development approach that caused immense damage to the state. Mahayuti has taken the state to the number one position by attracting foreign direct investment, and planning development, industry-friendly policies and welfare schemes. We completed Atal Setu, coastal road, and expanded Metro network and Samriddhi Mumbai-Nagpur expressway," Shinde said.

"Our government has the intention and the policy to do justice to every section of the society. MVA made many announcements and promises but failed to fulfil anything. All the schemes of the Mahayuti government are permanent and not brought with elections in mind. Opposition is spreading lies because they are afraid of our schemes like Ladali Bahena," he said.

Fadnavis said the decision to provide free electricity to farmers has been implemented during their government. "We approved 145 irrigation projects that have brought 22.73 lakh hectares of land under irrigation. We are providing solar pumps where farmers are paying 10 per cent cost of the solar pump project.

With this facility, farmers will not get the electricity bill for next 25 years," he said. Ajit Pawar said the opposition is spreading a false narrative as it is unable to digest the changes in the lives of common people. "False propaganda is being spread about the state debt market, Ladaki Bahin Yojana. This scheme has benefited 2.30 crore women. We have disbursed initially ₹10,000 crore and later ₹35,000 crore for this scheme," said Pawar.

Reacting to the development, Maharashtra Congress president Nana Patole said instead of a report card, Shinde should talk about a "rate card", as the state government catered only to industrialists and contractors at the cost of farmers and the common people.

Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Aaditya Thackeray dubbed the report card a "deport card" saying businesses were driven outside of Maharashtra.

SEWAGE DEATHS

5 workers die of suffocation in Gujarat factory

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

FIVE factory workers died of suffocation while cleaning a tank at Emami Agro Tech Company at Kandla in Gujarat's Kutch district, an official said on Wednesday. According to the firm's HR representative Sunil Yadav, the in-charge supervisor accidentally fell into the water tank while inspecting the drainage system around 12:30 am.

He further added, "On hearing his screams, other workers jumped inside the tank to rescue him but fell unconscious due to the gas. A rescue operation was launched with the assistance of the fire department at 1 am. The victims were rushed to a private hospital which referred them to government-run Rambagh Hospital in Adipur, where they were declared dead."

The company has announced financial assistance of ₹10 lakh each to the victims' kin along with legal support. The victims have been identified as Sidharth Tiwari, Ajmat Khan, Ashish Gupta, Ashish Kumar, and Sanjay Thakur. A case of accidental death has been filed at Kandla police station and an investigation launched.

Govt doc held for wearing 'straight spine' badge joins fast-unto-death of medics

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

A day after Tapobrata Roy, a doctor of Kolkata Municipal Corporation, was arrested and later released for wearing a badge for the RG Kar rape-murder victim and attending duty on the state government-sponsored puja carnival, he joined the junior doctors' hunger protest at Dharmatala along with other senior doctors of the corporation on Wednesday.

Roy said that the police had no right to arrest him for wearing a badge during duty hours. "There is no reason for me to get arrested. I simply wore a badge and a T-shirt with 'the spine should be straight' written on it," Roy said. "The people cannot talk about their views in West Bengal. It's a dictatorial regime. This should stop. I joined the protests in support of the junior doctors who are continuing their hunger strike," he added.

Meanwhile, the CBI wrote a letter to the state health secretary asking him to take action against two doctors allegedly involved in medical scam. The CBI letter mentioned that the Supreme Court had called for action against the doctors allegedly involved in the scam.

Body of woman 'raped and murdered' found

The body of a Class XII student allegedly raped and murdered was found in Krishnanagar in West Bengal's Nadia district on Wednesday. The body, with partially burnt face, was found near the SP office. The incident led to tension with CPM and Congress demanding that the autopsy be conducted in the presence of a magistrate.

The junior doctors continued their hunger strike in protest against the RG Kar rape-murder at Dharmatala. IMA chief Dr R V Asokan has said that doctors have always been "soft targets" and the "injustice inflicted on the medical fraternity has no parallel".

Alleging that the Mamata Banerjee government has failed to carry out its duties to protect the lives and properties of citizens, Governor C V Ananda Bose on Wednesday said that his office is already intervening in the RG Kar impasse under provisions in the Constitution. He said that the arrest of a police officer and a doctor in the case pointed to "institutional criminality", rampant in various sectors.

C'garh hologram to check sale of spurious liquor

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

In a significant decision taken by the Chhattisgarh government on Wednesday, there will be a strict monitoring step in place to curb the nuisance of illegal liquor sales in the state.

A cabinet meeting chaired by CM Vishnu Deo Sai took a decision to introduce new holograms for both domestic and foreign liquor bottles, intended to restrain illegal liquor trade.

Shehbaz calls for stronger SCO to tackle local challenges

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Wednesday urged SCO member states to strengthen the organisation's framework for tackling multiple regional challenges and forging close cooperation.

Sharif's remarks came as he addressed the opening session of the 23rd meeting of the Council of the Heads of Government (CHG) of the Member States of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO).

"From the esteemed platform of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation, a beacon of multilateralism, I stand in the belief that we possess not only the potential but the will to forge a future that is more prosperous and secure for our people a future inclusive and reflective of shared aspirations of all member states," he said. Prime Minister Shehbaz highlighted: "We are at a historic moment of transition where sweeping transformations are reshaping the global, social, political, economic, and security landscape."

He reaffirmed Pakistan's "commitment to regional peace, stability and enhanced connectivity and sustainable socio-economic development". He also highlighted that the SCO "embodies the collective voice and wishes of over 40 per cent of the global population anchored in the Shanghai spirit".

Mayor of Lebanon city among 25 dead in Israel strikes

Ahmad Kahil killed while holding municipal council meet to discuss relief efforts for his town of Nabatiyeh, says Lebanese officials

QANA

ISRAELI airstrikes pounded areas across Lebanon, killing at least 25 people, officials said Wednesday, including more than a dozen in a southern town where Israeli bombardments in previous conflicts are seared into local memory.

Elsewhere in the south, a city's mayor was among the dead in a strike that Lebanese officials said targeted a meeting to coordinate relief efforts.

The Israeli military said they were targeting a Hezbollah commander in the strikes late Tuesday on the southern town of Qana, where 15 people were killed. Associated Press photos and video of the scene showed several flattened buildings and others with their top floors collapsed. Rescue workers carried away the remains of dead people and used a bulldozer to remove rubble, as they searched for more victims.

Strikes continued across Lebanon, including in the eastern Bekaa Valley and Nabatiyeh, in southern Lebanon, where the Israeli military said it targeted Hezbollah command centers and weapons facilities that had been embedded in civilian areas. Hezbollah launched more than 90 projectiles towards Israel on Wednesday, wounding four civilians, according to Israel Rescue Services.

Israel also resumed its barrage on Beirut's southern suburbs after a six-day pause, hitting what it said was an arms warehouse under an apartment building, without providing evidence. The military warned residents to evacuate before the strike, and there were no reports of casualties.

The strikes on southern Beirut came after Mikati said the United States had given him assurances that Israel would curb its strikes on the capital.

Hezbollah has a strong presence in southern Beirut, known as the Dahiyeh, which is also a residential and commercial area home to large numbers of civilians and people unaffiliated with the militant group.

The Israeli military posted an evacuation warning on the social media platform X ahead of the strike in Beirut. An Associated Press photographer saw three airstrikes in the area, the first coming less than an hour after the notice.

In Nabatiyeh, more than half a dozen strikes hit the city and surrounding areas, according to Lebanon's Health Ministry, which said at least six people were killed and 43 wounded, with rescue efforts still underway. The city's mayor, Ahmad Kahil, was among those killed, provincial governor Huwaida Turk told The Associated Press. In his statement about Nabatiyeh, Mikati, the caretaker prime minister, said the international community has been 'deliberately silent' about Israeli strikes that have killed civilians.

Hezbollah began firing rockets into Israel on Oct 8, 2023, in solidarity with Palestinians, following the surprise Hamas attack on southern Israel. AP

Cholera confirmed in Lebanon, WHO says risk of spread 'very high'

The risk of cholera spreading in Lebanon is "very high", the World Health Organization warned Wednesday, after a case of the acute and potentially deadly diarrhoeal infection was detected in the conflict-hit country. Lebanon's health ministry said a cholera case had been confirmed in a person who went to hospital on Monday suffering from watery diarrhoea and dehydration

PM Starmer says UK weighing sanctions against Israel ministers

LONDON

BRITISH Prime Minister Keir Starmer said Wednesday that the government was considering sanctions against far-right Israeli ministers Itamar Ben Gvir and Bezalel Smotrich.

Asked in parliament if the government would sanction the two officials, Starmer said: "We are looking at that because there are obviously abhorrent comments along with other really concerning activity in the West Bank."

National Security Minister Ben Gvir and Smotrich, who is finance minister, are vocal supporters of settlements in the West Bank, which are considered illegal under international law. Smotrich has also triggered international uproar by suggesting it would be justified to starve two million Gazans to free Israeli hostages in the Palestinian territory.

After Starmer's comments, Smotrich remained defiant, vowing to fight Israel's enemies in Gaza, Lebanon and Iran while working to prevent the establishment of a Palestinian state.

"No threat will stop me from doing what is right and moral for the citizens of Israel," Smotrich posted on X.

Earlier this week, former foreign secretary David Cameron revealed that the previous Conservative government had been "working on" sanctions against the "extreme" politicians.

Kier Starmer

Starmer's Labour government announced separate sanctions Tuesday against seven Israeli settler outposts and organisations.

Israeli settler violence and military raids have intensified in the occupied territory following Hamas's October 7 attack last year.

Pointing to the "dire" humanitarian situation in Gaza, Starmer also called for Israel to "take all possible steps to avoid civilian casualties, to allow aid into Gaza in much greater volume".

Foreign Secretary David Lammy meanwhile announced that Britain, France and Algeria had called an urgent meeting of the UN Security Council after UN reports that "barely any food has entered" North Gaza in the last two weeks.

CENTRAL BANK KEEPS RATES UNCHANGED

Indonesia's central bank kept the interest rates unchanged on Wednesday even as its neighbouring countries Thailand and the Philippines slashed the rates. The bank held its benchmark seven-day reverse repo rate at 6% in line with expectations. Five of seven economists who took part in a Wall Street Journal survey expected the bank to keep the rates unchanged. Hyundai India IPO struggles, booked 42% on second day

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S biggest IPO, launched by the local arm of South Korean auto giant Hyundai Motor Company (HMC), is struggling to sail through amidst a low subscription rate. At the end of the second day of bidding, Hyundai Motor India Ltd (HMIL) IPO was subscribed only 0.42 times or 42%.

This is lower than the Day 2 subscription status of the next two biggest IPOs – Paytm and LIC. While the ₹18,300 crore IPO of loss-making Paytm was subscribed 48%, the ₹21,000 crore maiden share sale of LIC was fully subscribed at the end of day 2.

So far, Hyundai has received bids for 4.17 crore shares against 9.97 crore on offer, as per data available on the BSE. The portion for retail individual investors (RIIs) was subscribed 38%, the non-institutional investors' category received 26% subscription. The portion for qualified institutional buyers (QIBs) was subscribed 58%. Only the employee portion was fully subscribed.

On day 1, Hyundai's issue was booked 0.18 times. This is similar to the Day 1 subscription status of Paytm. LIC's issue was subscribed 0.67 times at the end of its first day of bid. The three-day bidding for Hyundai issue will conclude on Thursday. HMIL is selling its shares in the price band of ₹1,865-1,960 apiece. At the top end of the price band, the IPO is valued at ₹27,870 crore with the company's market capitalisation estimated at about ₹1.6 lakh crore post-listing.

Subdued response

The domestic arm of the South Korean auto major has received bids only for 4.17 crore shares against 9.97 crore shares on offer, as per the NSE data until 3 pm Wednesday

As per market experts, there are many factors why the IPO is receiving a lukewarm response. Most analysts believe valuation-wise, the issue is fully priced and leaves no room for investors to make money from listing. At the upper price band of Rs 1,960, HMIL is available at a premium valuation of 26.7x P/E ratio based on FY25E post-issue annualised earnings per share (EPS). The street is also not excited given the entire issue is an offer for sale (OFS), meaning Hyundai Motor India will not receive any funds from the IPO.

Indian telcos, mainly Jio, advocate for auction; Starlink and Amazon's Project Kuiper favour administrative allocation

Will do best to serve people of India: Musk

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING his happiness on his 'moral' victory over Indian telecom giants Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel, Elon Musk, CEO of SpaceX and Starlink, on Wednesday appreciated the government's decision to allocate satellite spectrum administratively to satellite communication players.

"Much appreciated! We will do our best to serve the people of India with Starlink," said Musk, in its social media post X. Communications Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia clarified on Tuesday that India would go for administrative allocation, aligning with global practices amid demand from Indian telecom operators, particularly Reliance Jio, to go for the auction route of allocation. Musk and Amazon's Project Kuiper have been advocating administrative allocation of Satcom spectrum.

Currently, there are two players, OneWeb and Jio-SES, with satellite communication licenses in India. Starlink and Amazon have applied for licences but await government approval. Musk criticised, and called the demand of telcos like Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea 'unprecedented' to go for auction route. He emphasised that the spectrum was designated by the ITU as a shared spectrum for satellites. "That would be unprecedented, as this spectrum was long designated by the ITU (International Telecommunication Union) as shared spectrum for satellites," Musk wrote. Musk urged TRAI for a fair decision and encouraged competition for the benefit of Indian consumers. In a reply of a tweet posted by Dogedesigner, which reads: Musk says he will call and ask if it would not be too much trouble to allow Starlink to compete to provide Internet services to the people of India, the owner of Starlink replied that it would be much appreciated.

Musk took a dig at Jio promoter Mukesh Ambani by reacting to a post on X that suggested Ambani's fear of Starlink's entry disrupting his telecom empire. Musk said he would call and ask if it would be too much trouble to allow Starlink into the Indian market. "I will call and ask if it would not be too much trouble to allow Starlink to compete to provide Internet services to the people of India," said Musk in a tweet.

This is the second attempt by Starlink to enter the market. In 2022, it began pre-bookings before obtaining regulatory approvals from the Department of Telecommunications (DoT). Subsequently, DoT forced Starlink to refund pre-booking amounts and seek a licence first. As per an EY-ISpA report, India's space economy is projected to expand to $13 billion by 2025, growing at a CAGR of 6% from nearly $9.6 billion in 2020.

STARLINK AND AMAZON HAVE APPLIED FOR LICENCES BUT AWAIT GOVERNMENT'S APPROVAL

Musk criticised & called the demand of telcos like Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea 'unprecedented' to go for auction route

He emphasised that the spectrum was designated by the ITU as shared spectrum for satellites

Musk also urged TRAI for fair decision and encouraged competition for the benefit of Indian consumers

Reacting to a post on Ambani's fear of Starlink's entry, Musk said he would call and ask if it would be too much trouble to allow Starlink into the market

TELCOS DEMAND AUCTION

This move goes against the demand of India's top telecom service provider, Reliance Jio, which advocates for an auction method for satellite spectrum allocation

TRAI refuses to issue consultation paper for spectrum allocation

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Wednesday refused to issue a new consultation paper for spectrum allocation to satellite communication players.

This move goes against the demand of India's top telecom service provider, Reliance Jio, which advocates for an auction method for satellite spectrum allocation. Anil Kumar Lahoti, chairman of TRAI, said it is reviewing the comments on the existing consultation paper on spectrum allocation to firms from all stakeholders. However, he didn't address the possibility of issuing another consultation paper.

"We are receiving, and we keep on receiving multiple views from various stakeholders. They are in different dimensions and directions. As a regulator, we consider all stakeholders' views and then take a considered view that is in the best interest of all," said Lahoti.

TRAI released paper on September 27, 2024, seeking comments on frequency bands, pricing models, and spectrum assignment duration for satellite companies. Jio has urged TRAI to revise the paper to ensure a level playing field by including the option for satellite spectrum auction. While Bharti Airtel initially supported administrative allocation, has since shifted its stance in favour of auction.

India's merchandise trade deficit narrows to five-month low in Sept

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE country's merchandise trade deficit declined five-month low to $20.78 billion in September, attributed to a slowdown in import growth to 1.6% and a slight increase in merchandise exports by 0.5%. Goods trade deficit had reached a 10-month high of $29.7 billion in August.

Goods exports amounted to $34.58 billion, while imports reached $55.36 billion. Commerce Secretary Sunil Barthwal noted that despite various challenges, merchandise exports showed strong performance in the first half of FY24.

Sequentially, goods exports have shown a fall in recent months, recording $29.65 billion in August, $33.98 billion in July, $35.20 billion in June, and $38.13 billion in May. Briefing media, Barthwal highlighted the resilience of exports in the face of challenging conditions. He said engineering goods now represent nearly a quarter of total exports. Growth in sectors such as organic and inorganic chemicals, plastics, pharma and ready-made garments has contributed to this performance. Barthwal said despite global challenges, these sectors have been pivotal in driving export growth, bolstering India's position as a major player in global trade.

In September, goods imports totalled $55.36 billion, slightly higher than $54.49 billion in the same month last year but significantly lower than August's $64.36 billion. This fall indicates a weakening domestic demand. Imports have shown fluctuations in recent months, with figures of $57.48 billion in July, $56.18 billion in June, and $61.91 billion in May. Services exports rose to $30.61 billion, up from $28.42 billion during the same period last year.

FPIs to get trade proceeds on settlement day, to save ₹2K cr yearly

Aimed at enhancing operational efficiency

Sebi said move is aimed at enhancing operational efficiency and respond to concerns raised by FPIs. Ensuring availability of sale proceeds for FPIs on settlement day will bring them on par with DIIs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

IN a major move towards ease of doing business and treating overseas investors on par with their domestic peers, capital market regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) has mandated clearing corporations to ensure that foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) get the proceeds from equity or debt sale on settlement day itself.

The capital market regulator estimates that efficiency gains from this revised processes is nearly ₹2,000 crore per annum.

In a statement on Wednesday, the Sebi said the move is aimed at enhancing the operational efficiency and respond to the concerns raised by foreign portfolio investors.

Ensuring the availability of sale proceeds for foreign portfolio investors on the settlement day itself will bring them on par with domestic institutional investors, it said.

Foreign portfolio investors previously reported delays in their access to sale proceeds beyond the standard T+1 settlement date, primarily due to the erstwhile process adopted for obtaining tax clearance on their net sale proceeds, to ensure compliance with Fema regulations.

To address this issue, Sebi had engaged in consultations with key stakeholders, including foreign portfolio investors , clearing corporations, custodians, and tax consultants. This collaborative effort led to significant process improvements, making sale proceeds available to foreign portfolio investors on settlement day.

Under the new system, in place since September 9, 2024, tax certificates for foreign portfolio investors' sales executed on the T-day are issued by tax consultants by 9:00 am the next day (T+1), allowing foreign portfolio investors to access sale proceeds, either for repatriation or for reinvestment, on the same T+1 day.

There was no decision yet, as confirmed by Chaudhary. Talking to reporters after the meeting, he said GoM would meet again in the second week of November.

"GST compensation cess is coming to an end. A discussion needed to be done on what will be the future of cess. Every state has given their views. This was the first meeting," he added. As per sources, during the meeting of the panel, states referred back to discussions from the 7th GST Council meeting held in December 2016. Prior to introduction of the GST in 2017, central and state governments agreed to impose a cess on certain luxury, sin, and demerit goods, in addition to 28% tax rate. This cess was intended to generate revenue to compensate states for revenue losses incurred following the GST implementation.

Tuchel named England head coach

Thomas Tuchel was hired as England coach on Wednesday and will take on the challenge of ending the national team's decades-long wait for a trophy. The German, who previously managed Paris Saint-Germain, Chelsea and Bayern Munich, will begin his tenure in January ahead of the 2026 World Cup in the United States.

Jaiswal — the cherry on top

Yashasvi's rise is contrary to Indian cricket's history, especially in the longest format

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Bengaluru

SHORTLY after 10.00 AM on the rained out opening day, Yashasvi Jaiswal strode out from the dressing room to the far side of the ground. Kitted up, the southpaw was going to have a hit in the indoor practice facility inside the sprawling KSCA campus.

Even as his thin six-foot frame disappeared beyond the sight screen and into the bowels of the facility in the heart of the city, it wasn't hard to come to grips with Rohit Sharma's assessment of his opening partner a day before the Test. "The guy has got real talent," the skipper said. "He has got the game to play in all sorts of conditions. Obviously, very new to international cricket, so it's very hard to judge right now. But he has got all the ingredients for success at this level."

When Jaiswal made his Test bow in the West Indies in July 2023, he had already built up a reputation for his white-ball prowess. Even if he had made a ton of domestic red-ball runs, the left-hander's one-day stock was arguably higher. Not anymore. If anything, he has very quickly established himself as one of the best Test openers going around. His capacity to see through the new ball, ability to constantly put the bad deliveries away and always keep the scoreboard ticking are invaluable traits in the modern game. Since the time he made his debut in the West Indies in 2023, only three openers have made more runs than him but the 22-year-old is the standout in terms of average (refer to table). It helps a lot that he scores his runs at a fair clip; among left-handed openers (minimum 10 Tests), only Ben Duckett has scored quicker since the turn of the century.

Sharma, who has been Jaiswal's opening partner for each of the latter's 11 matches in the game's longest format, namechecked his 'aggressive' instincts with the bat. "So far in his short career, he has shown what he is capable of," Sharma said. "We found a great player. It does obviously bode well for our team as well being a left-hander, being an aggressive batter, it bodes well for the team. "Hopefully, he can just continue to do what he has done in the last year or so."

Sharma doesn't come across as somebody who has the history of Indian cricket at his fingertips — that's more R Ashwin's territory — but the skipper inadvertently shone a light on why Jaiswal's rise is almost contrarian to India's rich cricketing history. There have only been 16 left-handed openers (part-time as well as specialists) for the men's team, with Jaiswal becoming only the fifth to bat in that position in more than 10 matches. It gives the team greater flexibility, a left-right combination and solidity at the top. Put it this way: almost all of India's great red-ball openers have been right-handers. Jaiswal is literally challenging 90 years of history. The good news, according to Sharma, is Jaiswal's never-ending quest to keep upskilling. "He is somebody who wants to learn the game, learn about batsmanship, which is always a nice thing," he said. "When a youngster comes into the team, his mindset is quite critical. The mindset that he has shown, he always wants to learn, always wants to improve, not happy with what he has achieved which is obviously a great start to a young career."

This will keep him in good stead because of upcoming challenges in Australia and England. These tours have broken more senior Indian openers so it will be interesting to see how Jaiswal adapts on the fly in conditions he has never played before in at this level. There were some questions asked about his temperament following the two-match series in South Africa, albeit on some extreme decks.

But Sharma is dead sure that he's an all-terrain operator. "What he has shown us in this brief period of time, you can bet on him and expect him to do wonders for the team," he said. "He has come through the ranks. He has played a lot of domestic cricket, Under-19 cricket. And obviously, has succeeded as well. That is why he is right now playing for India."

The other effect he has had on this team is they are now hitting sixes at an unprecedented rate. Jaiswal leads the list of most sixes by an opener in 2024 with 29. To paint a contrast, the next five players put together an aggregate of 30. These things matter because they provide the side with multiple options.

At 22, Jaiswal is still young and he will have to watch out for the sophomore slump. If he can come through that test, he could be a game-changer.

Leading run-scorers in Tests (only openers) since Jaiswal made his debut in July 2023

Players	Runs	Avg	S/R
Ben Duckett	1771	45.41	88.95

India's leading run-scorers after 11 Tests in the 21st century (only left-handers and openers)

Players	Runs	Avg

DAY 1 WASHED OUT

"Whenever Chennai catches a cold," as the saying goes, "Bengaluru sneezes." This held true as the first day's play of the opening Test of the three-match series between India and New Zealand was washed out without a ball being bowled out. Even as Chennai faced the worst of the disturbance in the Bay of Bengal, parts of Bengaluru were hit by heavy rains over the last 48 hours or so. There was a brief excitement for the few hundred, who had braved the elements just before the scheduled tea break as the ground staff made their way to remove the covers. However, their joy was short-lived. They weren't too thrilled by what they saw so they ordered more Hessians on a patch next to the strip. The drizzle had more or less stopped post 1.30 PM but play was called off for the day at 2.30 PM.

Chloe and South Africa in pursuit of a date with destiny

TNIE @ WOMEN'S WORLD CUP
KALYANI MANGALE
DUBAI

CHLOE Tryon was over the moon. After all, she had taken a stunner to dismiss Australian captain Meg Lanning at the packed Newlands Stadium in the 2023 T20 World Cup final. With a shortish ball from Marizanne Kapp on offer, Lanning had almost nailed a pull shot before Tryon sprinted from deep backward square leg to complete the catch. Such was the occasion that she roared her heart out facing the crowd who had turned the stadium into a South African party.

If that was the peak of her career, a few hours later, she witnessed probably one of the biggest gut punches ever when the World Cup trophy slipped away. It became a reality when the same Lanning lifted the T20 World Cup trophy for the 4th time in the backdrop of Table Mountain. It wasn't to be for South Africa. However, as luck would have it, Tryon and South Africa are getting ready to face Australia again. This time in the semi-final of the 2024 T20 World Cup at the Dubai International Stadium. Many things have changed and for the better. While the respect for their opponents is still there, this time South Africa and Tryon believe. For they have beaten this unit in the shortest format earlier this year.

"They are reigning champions for a reason. They have shown time and again in pressure situations they find a way," Tryon told this daily. "We understand as a team that we've beaten them before. We know that feeling. We know the level that we want to play. We want to make sure that we play like that against them every single game. I feel like if we can focus on those positives of how we approach the game, how we went about it, how we better ourselves as the team and as players, that's the mindset you want to kind of be in. I always feel like the team that stays calm on the day finds a way. Those key moments in a game can just switch," she added.

As the hosts, South Africa were not able to cross the final line in 2023. They had to scrape their way through it. Tryon believes that built the character. Now, they are able to get through similar situations, having experienced what it feels like to survive tense moments. "We feel like we've been improving as a team. With our backs against the wall in the World Cup in South Africa, we showed a lot of character. One of the big words is showing character. We still have senior players who have been to plenty of World Cups to understand the pressure that there is at these tournaments. They can really help the youngsters that have come in now that are maybe just a little bit nervous. I think for us as seniors it is also to try and lead from the front. Some young ones in the team make us feel a little bit old (laughs) but it has been nice to have some new energy and some really young talent," Tryon mentioned.

When South Africa made it to the home World Cup final, they made a big dent in that invisible glass ceiling for women's sports in the country. In a Rugby-mad country, it was a special occasion as even Siya Kholisi, the Springboks captain, was in the audience to support the women's team. "I absolutely love playing for my country. We are the rainbow nation. We are a diverse country. I feel like sports really pulls us together. We looked at that in the final in 2023. We had a sold-out stadium at Newlands for the final and people were just there backing us. People want to watch us play and they're so passionate so it's amazing to see. We want to make them proud again."

Not many get the chance at redemption. Very few get to do that at this level. On Thursday, Tryon and South Africa have their date with destiny. Maybe this is the time to break that glass ceiling at home once and for all.

Steph's West Indies that dared to ask 'why not?'

KALYANI MANGALE @ Dubai

THERE is a nice little cafe at the entrance of the ICC Academy in Dubai, which is a walking distance from the global cricketing body's headquarters. It was the most usual place to spot international cricketers going in and out of the designated training facility for the ongoing T20 World Cup.

While her team was practicing at the nets alongside India, Stephanie Taylor was patiently waiting for her order at the cafe. With her left knee all strapped in, it was evident that she wanted her order to be delivered in a hurry. Somehow, one of the producers with the broadcasters, who had a field of play accreditation around her neck, found the courage to shake hands with the West Indian legend.

"Go well in the tournament, Stephanie," she said. "Thank you so much," the ever-humble Taylor replied. "Maybe the repeat of 2016 is on the cards?," was the next question from the youngster and Taylor with a broad smile on her face said, "Why not?" (Taylor-led West Indies defeated Australia in 2016, to win the T20 World Cup at the Eden Gardens).

On October 15, at the Dubai International Stadium, when the team she saw grow up in front of her eyes was bossing the game against the tournament favourites, England, Taylor was nowhere to be seen. She was not in the middle of the action having already been ruled out of the encounter due to her knee. She was not even in the dugout adjacent to the boundary.

Taylor was sitting on a chair on the way to the dressing room, living and breathing every moment of the game; cheering on every little good thing West Indies did on the field and showing her visible frustration at things that went wrong. The moment Aaliyah Alleyne hit the boundary to confirm West Indies' entry to the semifinal, Taylor just ran towards the field with all of her might, hugging anyone and everyone she saw en route. Despite not being in the middle, this is the house Taylor has built over the years.

Top-tier clash

In a repeat of last year's T20 World Cup final, South Africa and Australia will face each other in the first semi-final in Dubai. A look...

CLOUDS OVER HEALY

Australia's captain Alyssa Healy suffered a foot injury in the group-stage fixture against Pakistan and Tahlia McGrath had to step into a leadership role against India. While Tayla Vlaeminck is ruled out of the tournament with Heather Graham replacing her, there is still no word on Healy's participation in the upcoming games for Australia.

PEAKING AT RIGHT TIME?

Apart from their loss to England in the group stage, South Africa have progressed through the World Cup showing improvements in each department. While Tazmin Brits is the highest run-scorer of the tournament, Nonkululeko Mlaba is the second-highest wicket-taker. It will be interesting to see how they go against Australia.

Anxiety in NSFs as Min calls for meeting

A day before a meeting between recognised National Sports Federations (NSFs) and the sports ministry to discuss the nuances of the Draft National Sports Governance Bill, 2024, there is anxiety among the federations. The letter addressed to president/secretary of recognised NSFs, dated October 15, called for a "stakeholders consultation" at the National Stadium in New Delhi on Thursday.

Some of the NSFs felt that the meeting had been called on a very short notice. But it is understood that at least 60 members are expected to attend. Though the aim of the draft Bill is to bring in more accountability and transparency, however, there are some provisions in the proposed Bill that have led to consternation among the existing National Olympic Committee (NOC) and NSFs officials. Some even believe that if the draft Bill is passed, they would lose autonomy. These could be the focal points of discussion on Thursday. "There shall be a National Olympic Committee of India recognised by the Sports Regulatory Board of India (SRBI) subject to the provisions of this Bill." — Draft Bill. This is because of lack of clarity on certain criteria incorporated in the proposed Bill. What could be a worry is that the SRBI has the powers to recognise India's NOC and NSFs. This also means that whatever changes the NOC or the NSF would be bringing in should be in consultation with the board. This could infringe on the autonomy of the NOC and the NSFs, something the International Olympic Committee or an International Federation doesn't encourage at all.

May lead to polls in NOC, NSFs

Another sticky issue would be aligning the constitution of NOCs, NSFs and other stakeholders up to the district level.

FLIP SIDE
INDRANEEL DAS

The executive committee of the Indian Olympics Association, including its president, is busy fighting but if the Bill comes into force they will be the ones most affected. It might lead to fresh elections. The Bill, if enacted, will lead to changes in the voting members of the general body. This more or less applies to the NSFs as well. They need to change the constitution to incorporate provisions of the draft Bill.

Sportspersons < 25%?

"At least 10% of the General Body and Voting Members of the NOC shall be constituted by sportspersons of outstanding merit (SOMs) to be elected by the Athletes Commission of the NOC as representatives (half of whom shall be female representatives and half of whom shall be male representatives)." — Draft Bill. The Sports Code mandates a minimum of 25 per cent representation of SOMs in the general body of the IOA. This was backed by the Delhi High Court who in its 16.08.2022 order stated that 25 per cent representation is an indicative figure. In fact, the order had said that it is desirable to have SOMs "equal to at least the NSFs representing Olympic sports." In the last IOA election, there were 33 NSFs with 66 voting members (one male and one female). The IOA where fierce infighting is going on between the president and the EC members, has eight distinguished sportspersons. There is no restrictive clause, which means anybody can come and contest. And with no cap on term (12 years) like in the new IOA constitution, officials can continue to be administrators as long as they want.

SECRETS OF THE PAST!

Head to these prehistoric sites that also serve as great tourist destinations if the mysteries of the ancient world beguile you...

ROMAL LAISRAM

AS Indians, our pride in our rich culture and ancient civilization is well-known. However, we often overlook the fascinating prehistoric legacies that shape our history. Here are four remarkable archaeological sites across the country that not only showcase our ancient roots but also make for fantastic holiday destinations, for the adventurous at heart!

KEEZHADI, TAMIL NADU

Meenakshi Temple

Nestled near Silaiman on the border of Madurai and Sivagangai districts, Keezhadi is a village steeped in history. Home to a significant excavation site, researchers from the Archaeological Survey of India have uncovered a Sangam era settlement dating back to the 6th century BCE. Set along the banks of the River Vaigai, this location was pivotal for early civilisation. Just 12 kilometres from Madurai, Keezhadi makes for a perfect day trip. Don't miss the Keezhadi Heritage Museum, where you can delve deeper into the region's rich past. In Madurai, marvel at the stunning Meenakshi Sundareswarar Temple and the picturesque Vandiyur Mariamman Temple, complete with its beautiful teppakulam (temple pond). For a touch of adventure, visit Yanaimalai (Elephant Hill) nearby, featuring impressive Jain rock-cut sculptures and both Shaivite and Vaishnavite temples. With its blend of history and culture, Keezhadi is a destination not to be missed! Stay at Courtyard by Marriott Madurai, 13 kms away from the site. Closest airport and railhead: Madurai.

BHIMBETKA, MADHYA PRADESH

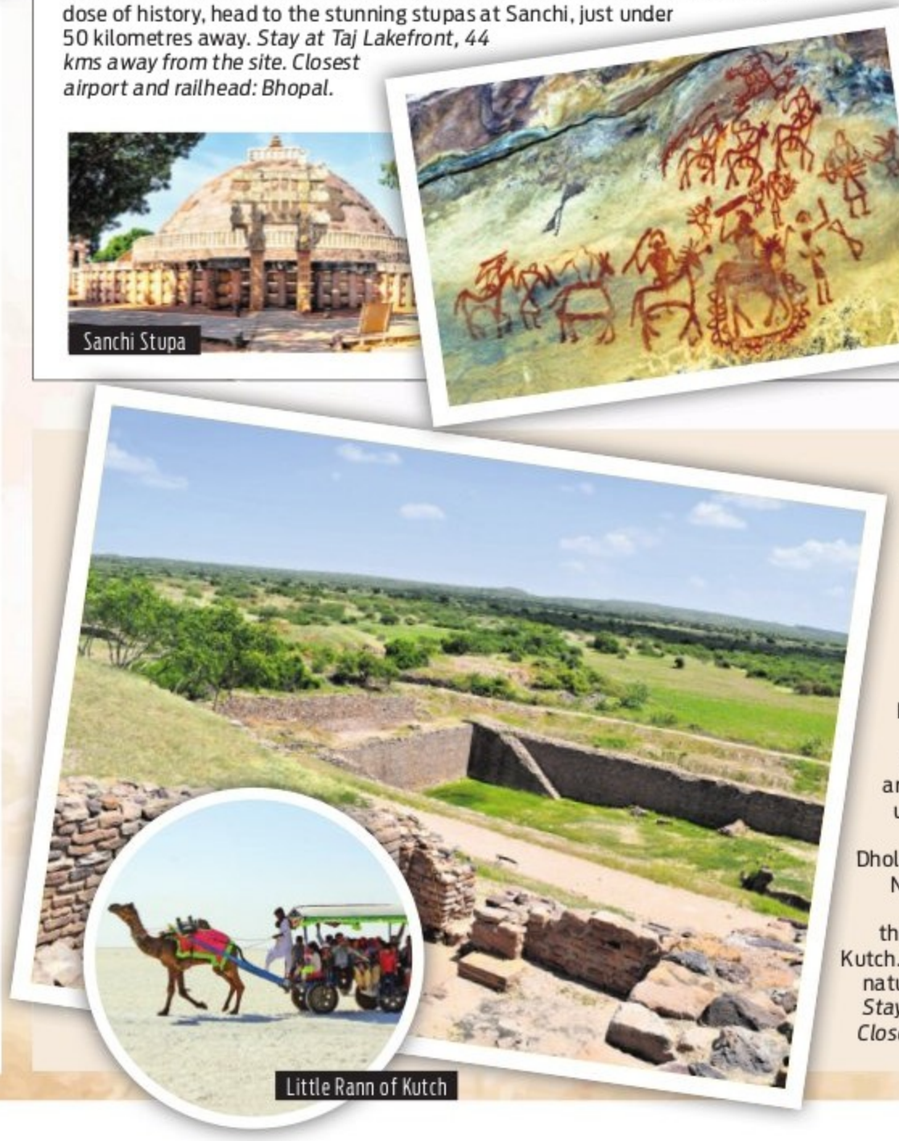
Venture into the heart of Madhya Pradesh to explore the Bhimbetka rock shelters, a UNESCO World Heritage Site that showcases the earliest signs of human life in India. Nestled about 45 kilometres southeast of Bhopal, this remarkable site spans the Paleolithic and Mesolithic periods, featuring over 750 rock shelters across seven hills. Dating back more than 1,00,000 years, some shelters boast stunning prehistoric cave paintings depicting animals, dance and hunting scenes, offering a fascinating glimpse into ancient life. While in the area, don't miss the cultural treasures of Bhopal, including Gohar Mahal, Birla Mandir and the Madhya Pradesh Tribal Museum. For an extra dose of history, head to the stunning stupas at Sanchi, just under 50 kilometres away. Stay at Taj Lakefront, 44 kms away from the site. Closest airport and railhead: Bhopal.

Sanchi Stupa

VANGCHHIA, MIZORAM

Nestled in the Champhai district of Mizoram, Vangchhia is a captivating village that boasts 171 ancient menhir stones, recognised as the state's first protected archaeological site since 2012. These towering stones, some reaching 1.5 metres wide, are adorned with intricate carvings of humans, animals and weapons, each telling a story of the past. The locals believe those featuring head-dresses may represent warriors, adding a layer of intrigue to these historic relics. Nearby, a rock shelter offers breathtaking views of Myanmar, while a stone-paved walkway leads to the Tiau River, a vital waterway in the region. Due to its remote location, Vangchhia is best visited as a day trip from Aizawl. We suggest this is planned as a one destination trip as getting to Vangchhia is quite the task, but well worth the effort. Stay at The Grand Aizawl, 225 kms away from the site. Stay over at Hotel Alpha in Champhai town, before heading back to Aizawl the next day. Another exciting day trip from Champhai could be to Lake Pala Tipo (Palak) — a 12 hour drive away. Closest airport: Aizawl/Lengpui Closest railhead: Bairabi/Silchar.

A view of Champhai



Little Rann of Kutch

DHOLAVIRA, GUJARAT

Dholavira, an extraordinary archaeological site located in Khadirbet, Kutch District, Gujarat, is a testament to the brilliance of the ancient Indus Valley civilisation. Just a kilometre from the modern village of Kotada Timba, this site stands as one of the five largest Harappan locations in India. Nestled within the Kutch Desert Wildlife Sanctuary, Dholavira sprawls across 47 hectares, bordered by the seasonal Mansar and Manhar streams. Dating back to 2650 BCE, the city thrived until around 2100 BCE, with evidence of reoccupation until 1450 BCE. Namo Bharat Rapid Rail to revolutionise inter-city travel in Karnataka

The Bengaluru service route will connect urban centres such as Mysuru and Tumakuru, offering commuters a faster and more efficient alternative to existing travel options...

SRUSHTI KULKARNI

THE Namo Bharat Rapid Rail, a new semi-high-speed rail service, is set to transform short-distance travel between major cities in India. Designed to connect cities within a 100-250 km radius, this initiative is part of the Government of India's 'Make in India' campaign, aiming to boost local manufacturing and infrastructure development.

In April 2024, the Rail Coach Factory (RCF) in Kapurthala rolled out the first Basic Unit of the Namo Bharat Rapid Rail. By September 2024, it had entered commercial service, with the inaugural Ahmedabad-Bhuj route launching on 16 September 2024. The success of this route marks a significant milestone and the service will soon be extended to Bengaluru, Karnataka. The Bengaluru service will connect the city to key nearby urban centres such as Mysuru and Tumakuru, offering commuters a faster and more efficient alternative option.

The Namo Bharat trains, which are self-propelled trainsets, closely resemble the Vande Bharat Express, negating the need for a separate locomotive. These trains are designed to replace the ageing MEMU trains, delivering enhanced speed and comfort for passengers. With a focus on reducing travel time, the Namo Bharat Rapid Rail is expected to significantly cut down the duration of journeys between cities, making it a game-changer for regular commuters.

Passengers will enjoy a modern, comfortable travel experience, with thoughtfully designed seating and amenities to ensure that the journey is as convenient as it is swift. By offering a quick and pleasant alternative to road travel and traditional rail services, the Namo Bharat Rapid Rail is set to become a preferred choice for inter-city travel, particularly for those seeking speed and comfort on short-distance routes to avoid traffic congestion these regions are famous for.

INDIA TO IMPLEMENT FACIAL RECOGNITION TECHNOLOGY FOR INTERNATIONAL AIR TRAVELLERS

This development builds on the existing Digi Yatra platform, which currently facilitates contactless entry and security clearance for domestic flights by using facial biometrics...

SRUSHTI KULKARNI

INDIA is preparing to introduce facial recognition technology (FRT) for international air travel, with a pilot project scheduled for June 2025. This development builds on the existing Digi Yatra platform, which currently facilitates contactless entry and security clearance for domestic flights by using facial biometrics. The move towards FRT for international travel is expected to further streamline the airport experience, providing travellers with a secure and efficient way to store and use their identification and travel documents digitally.

Digi Yatra Foundation CEO, Suresh Khadakbhavi, confirmed that the platform will soon cater to international passengers. The foundation is working with visa-issuing agencies and the Bureau of Immigration to integrate FRT for global travel. Additionally, the Digi Yatra Foundation plans to introduce e-passports for Indian international travellers. The rollout will initially focus on international passengers, with Indian citizens gaining access once the government begins issuing these digital documents. Countries such as Singapore and several European Union nations have already adopted e-passports and these nations are expected to be key participants in the pilot project.

Under this new system, passengers will scan their physical or mobile boarding pass at an E-Gate and look into an FRS camera. The system will validate the traveller's identity and travel documents, opening the gate once the information has been verified. This process aims to enhance security and reduce the need for physical ID checks at various airport checkpoints.

Currently, the Digi Yatra platform is available at major Indian airports, including Bengaluru, Varanasi, Delhi and Mumbai. It was first launched in December 2022 and has expanded to Vijayawada, Kolkata, Hyderabad and Pune by April 2023. The service offers registered users contactless entry and security clearance, thanks to facial recognition technology, which verifies passengers' identities without requiring them to show physical documents. Special queues and check-in points have been set up for those using the Digi Yatra app or kiosk.

However, as of April 2024, the Digi Yatra system requires users to sign up using their Aadhaar ID. While there are plans to incorporate other forms of identification, progress on this has been slow. Digi Yatra is an industry-led initiative, supported by the Ministry of Civil Aviation in India, aimed at modernising the travel experience and making air travel more efficient and secure.

With the planned introduction of FRT for international travellers and the rollout of e-passports, India is positioning itself as a leader in aviation technology, following the global trend of adopting advanced digital solutions for travel. This initiative is expected to significantly enhance the convenience and safety of air travel for both passengers in the domestic and international sectors.

Personal stylist Jaya Kumari conducts seasonal colour analysis for a client

Colour me happy!

Don't let the blues get to you with the ongoing rain. Seasonal colour analysis, a trend in vogue, will teach you how to add spring, summer, autumn and winter colours to your wardrobe while you wait for the days to get brighter

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

With videos of influencers flying to South Korea to get a seasonal colour analysis being popular, image consultants and stylists in the city have seen an increase in Bengalureans interested in learning what colour palette suits them best – spring, summer, autumn or winter. Bia Sandhu, an image consultant, notes that youngsters don't just want her to transform their style, they want to learn how to do it themselves. "Earlier people would just ask for help with a makeover. But now people will call with specific requirements. 'Can you help me with personal colours? I want to know what colours work for me.' I wouldn't have had these questions two-three years ago." With the ongoing rains casting an air of gloom and confining us to our homes, perhaps, now is the time to cheer yourself up by adding a pop of your personal colour to your wardrobe.

Personal colour analysis examines an individual's undertone (cool, warm or neutral), skin tone (deep or light), and contrast (difference between lightest and darkest facial feature) to categorise them into four distinct colour palettes based on the four seasons. Experts say that makeup, jewellery and clothing worn according to an individual's seasonal colours flatter them the most. Jaya Kumari, one of the few seasonal colour analysts in Bengaluru, says, "People who look good in soft and cool colours like pastels are generally in the summer category. Earthy tones, maybe browns, beiges or mustards, are majorly autumn. Jewel tones like ruby red, emerald green or turquoise colours, are winter, and people who look good in bright, fresh colours, are in the spring category."

The idea of getting a personal colour analysis isn't to completely overhaul your wardrobe but to learn how to work with colours to make the best out of your clothes. Tusharika Tejaswi, a 24-year-old professional stumbled upon seasonal colour analysis videos on social media recently. She discovered that she is a 'winter'. "Some of my personal colours are fuchsia pink, violet, and royal blues. I was stuck in a cycle of wearing the same old clothes to work every day and didn't feel confident in some of those colours. I learnt to sustainably use whatever I have and if a colour overpowers me, I pair it up with something that neutralises it. At the moment I'm looking for a lot of wardrobe pieces," she says.

Kumari explains that you can create a versatile wardrobe which has pieces that work well with each other and you will understand how to combine colours. She recommends seeking out a professional to get a comprehensive experience. "People have come to me after using AI apps to do their colour analysis and realising that everyone in the house has gotten the same result," she laughs. "When a client walks in, even I can't tell what season they are immediately. It's a process involving draping different colours of cloth to see what shades of colours look good. It's difficult to figure without applying the drape."

VEIN CHECK

According to image consultant Bia Sandhu, an easy place to start incorporating your personal colours is to identify your undertone. "If you take a look at the veins in your arm and they are blue, you have a cool undertone; green indicates a warm undertone; and if it's both, you have a neutral undertone. As a rule of thumb, greens, purples and blues work well if you have bluish veins; if you have greenish veins, reds, oranges and yellows work well," she says.

GET CREATIVE

Tap your creative side by giving 'blackout poetry with newspapers' a try. Poet Mariyam Saigal says, "All you need is a newspaper, a black pen, and a playful approach to the words on the page. I start by underlining one word I like, then another. You might be reading about death, but in the same article, you can find a poem about life." For those into arts and crafts, Ashvini Gattargi recommends trying a crochet project with the help of YouTube. "I started small, learning just one stitch, and made a blanket for my cat. It's fun because it's repetitive. You can also make simple items like hand towels and coasters."

MAHIMA NAGARAJU AND POOJA DAS

ONCE renowned for its pleasant year-round climate, Bengaluru now alternates between scorching heat and drought-like conditions in the summer, and torrential rains that reclaim vast swathes of land that were part of its rich water ecosystems during the monsoon. With severe weather uncertainties forecasted for the week, many may be cooped indoors under chilly conditions. But it's also the perfect opportunity for comfort and creativity. We tell you how.

Actor Ranjani Raghavan

CURL UP WITH A CLASSIC

Rainy days call for blankets, hot drinks, and binge-watching films or TV series. Bhoomi Venkatesh, who curates film experiences in the city, suggests watching something atmospheric, like The Batman, The Talented Mr. Ripley, Anatomie d'une Chute or Memories of Murder by Bong Joon-Ho. These films challenge you to explore the hidden depths of your mind, engaging both your emotions and intellect, blending cinema with complex human thought. Meanwhile, actor Ranjani Raghavan recommends Laughing Buddha for fans of regional films. "I watched it in theatres, and those who missed it can now catch it on OTT. If you enjoy Kannada films, it's a must-watch."

GAMING RETREATS

Rainy days are perfect for gaming marathons, where you can gather loved ones and immerse yourselves in uninterrupted sessions. Whether you're controlling industrious beavers in Timberborn, building thriving settlements in a post-apocalyptic world, or relaxing with Tiny Glade, a stress-free game that lets you create cosy mediaeval scenes, the options cater to every mood. For cooperative experiences, It Takes Two offers an emotionally-driven adventure where you and a partner navigate imaginative settings together, or fans of board games, 'One Night Ultimate Werewolf' provides fast-paced social deduction, ensuring laughter and high energy, while 'Sushi Go Party!' is a quick, card-drafting game that's fun and accessible for everyone.

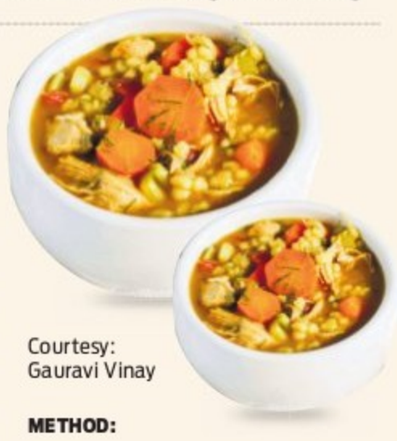
COMFORT ON A PLATE

When it's pouring outside, nothing beats indulging in treats that warm you to the core. Clinical nutritionist Gauravi Vinay suggests healthier comfort food over fried snacks. "Dal khichdi with veggies, rasam rice with aromatics like pepper, turmeric, garlic, ginger, and ajwain, and doddapatre (Mexican mint) are all great for warmth. Many of these herbs have anti-inflammatory and antibacterial properties, ideal for soothing congestion or a cold. A light chicken soup is another winter favourite that's comforting and nourishing."

CHICKEN BARLEY SOUP

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 cup carrots, sliced
- 1 cup celery, sliced
- 1 cup mushrooms, chopped
- 1 chicken breast, diced
- 1 tsp garlic, minced
- 1 jalapeño, finely chopped
- 1 tsp dried oregano
- 1 tsp dried basil
- 1 cup pearl barley, washed
- 4-5 cups chicken stock
- 4 tbsp flour (any type)
- ¾ cup milk
- 1½ cups spinach
- Salt, to taste



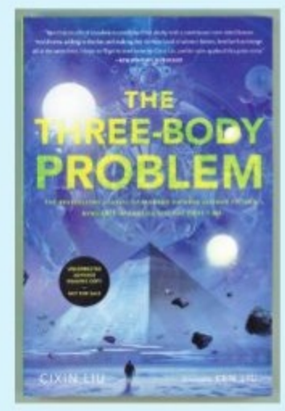
Courtesy: Gauravi Vinay

METHOD:

1. Combine the carrots, celery, mushrooms, chicken, garlic, jalapeño, oregano, basil, barley, chicken stock, and salt in a pressure cooker. Cook for 6-7 whistles.

2. In a bowl, whisk the flour and milk. Once the soup is cooked, mix in the flour-milk mixture. Cook on high for 20 minutes.

3. Add the spinach, stir well, and let the soup sit for 10 minutes before serving hot.



LITERARY ESCAPES

The sound of rain is the perfect backdrop to curl up with a good book — be it a mystery, historical narrative, or thrilling fantasy. Vinayak Hegde, a book enthusiast who organises reading sessions, suggests, "Science fiction, biographies, or art-related books are also great for this weather, especially slow burners, which allow for deeper reflection." The Remembrance of Earth's Past trilogy (also known as The Three-Body Problem series) by Liu Cixin is a mesmerising exploration of humanity's battle against an impending alien invasion, blending hard science with philosophical questions about civilisation and the cosmos. Alternatively, William Dalrymple's The Golden Road: How Ancient India Transformed the World traces the far-reaching influence of ancient Indian civilisation across Eurasia, from mathematics to religion and art. The Blue Umbrella by Ruskin Bond is also a great option.

How do I get started with strength training at home with minimal equipment?

Getting started with strength training at home with minimal equipment is easy and convenient.

- I recommend hiring a certified personal trainer and training under their guidance to avoid injuries and see results. It's not safe to watch YouTube videos or reels for workouts as they are general and not specific to you.

ASK AN XPERT

- Exercise routine has to be structured to target all major muscle groups. Exercises have to be varied to prevent exercise plateau. Dynamic warm-ups, exercise execution and alignment, cool down, and appropriate stretches help prevent injuries.

Here is a list of basic equipment needed for a home gym:

1. A pair of dumbbells (2kg and 3kg)
2. Resistance bands
3. Medicine ball
4. Exercise mat
5. Chair or bench (for some exercises)
6. Exercise stick

FITBIT

VALAKHILYASANA

(HEAVENLY SPIRITS POSE)

This is an intermediate level, hip and heart-opening practice. It involves a similar leg position as in One Footed King Pigeon Pose with a difference of holding the raised foot. It is, therefore, included in One Footed King Pigeon Pose variations. This bound practice prepares the shoulders and back for advanced backbends like Standing Pose of the Heavenly Spirits. Before doing this, warm-up is a must. In Sanskrit, Valakhilya means a group of divine sages (heavenly spirits). This backbend stretch can be seen as a way to transcend physical constraints and embody a sense of spiritual upliftment.

STEPS

- Begin in Ardha Kapotasana (Half Pigeon Pose) on the right, extending your right leg straight behind.
- Keep your left leg folded towards front, with the heel close to the perineum and the toes pointing behind.
- Sit up tall. Roll your shoulder back and widen your chest.
- Inhale and raise your right leg, which is extended behind to bring the foot towards the body.
- Exhale. Extend the hands behind, interlocking the fingers on the raised leg behind. Hold the ankle and interlock the fingers on the lower leg. Grab the foot with your right hand, then use the other hand.
- Push the legs behind, widen the chest while curving the back in a gentle backbend.
- Be in this pose for 6 breaths.
- To release, slowly align back in Ardha Kapotasana.
- Release the pose, sending your hips up high in the Downward Dog Pose, unfolding your front leg (left). Repeat the practice on the other side (left).
- Finally, slide down in Balasana and relax.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the chest.
- Maintains a sense of balance and equilibrium in their spiritual practice.
- Symbolises the idea that true strength and wisdom come from inner balance and harmony.
- Builds strength and flexibility in the biceps and triceps, hamstrings-quadriceps, arms-shoulders-neck, psoas, spine, chest, and knees, engaging the whole body.
- Included in yoga sequences for all, especially sports, runners, mountain climbers, swimmers.
- Helps improve athletic performance.
- Excellent yoga pose that provides a beautiful stretch for the upper body.
- Benefits people who lead a sedentary lifestyle, sit for long hours, or have poor posture.
- Great addition to yoga routines for working professionals.
- It allows for deeper breathing and better oxygen exchange.
- Beneficial for students with asthma or other respiratory disorders.
- Balances several chakras, including the Throat, Sacral and Root Chakras.
- Promotes emotional release by stimulating energy flow in the body.
- This pose also helps open the hip joint and lengthens the hip flexor.
- Stretches thighs, glutes and piriformis muscles, extending the groin and psoas.
- Beneficial for urinary disorder and stimulates the internal organs.
- Improves posture, alignment and overall suppleness.
- Lessens or alleviates sciatic pain.
- Beneficial for lower back pain and stiffness.

LIMITATIONS

- People having a hip replacement or facing hip injury, must avoid it.
- Women during pregnancy and those trying to conceive should avoid practising it.
- People with ankle or knee injury, should avoid this.

Amidst the downpour the city is witnessing, here's an outline of the infections that could surge during the rainy season

KEEP INFECTIONS AT BAY

DR NEHA MISHRA

THE monsoons bring both refreshing rains and increased health challenges. The ongoing intense downpours in the city cause waterlogging and reduced visibility, which lead to vehicles skidding and drivers misjudging distances, thereby heightening the likelihood of collisions. In addition, the stagnation of water due to incessant rain leads to a multiplication of mosquitoes increasing the rate at which vector-borne diseases like dengue and malaria grow. Waste splashed over by excess drainage systems can cause water sources to be polluted and spread diseases such as typhoid, hepatitis A, respiratory infections or flu-like symptoms.

Health threats and causes

The spread of infections during the rainy season is primarily linked to water-related issues. Stagnant water, common in monsoon season, becomes a place for mosquitoes to breed. This condition escalates the spread of chikungunya and leptospirosis, widely prevalent in flood-prone areas. Poor sanitation, on the other hand, serves as a potent reservoir of these bacteria/viruses and contamination of food and water with these can be a mode of transmission for several bacteria and viruses causing diseases like typhoid, hepatitis A & E along with other gastrointestinal pathogen. Hence, on rainy days when heavy showers are experienced, enteric viruses which can survive more easily thrive better.

In addition, the monsoon season witnesses an increased number of influenza-like illnesses and upper respiratory infections. Prevalence of common cold, cough and sore throat becomes more common. While they are often self-limiting, they need to be closely monitored so that more serious complications and other infections such as typhoid do not go undiagnosed.

Prevention and care

Prevention remains the cornerstone of maintaining health during the monsoon. Ensuring that food is sanitary and water is potable should also help reduce the prevalence of many gastrointestinal diseases. Another important preventive measure is to avoid waterlogging around houses, which minimises the chances of mosquito breeding. Wearing protective clothing and proper footwear, along with using mosquito repellents can significantly lower the chances of contracting vector-borne diseases and ticks.

It is always prudent to seek medical advice to ensure quicker recovery and correct diagnosis. Although most viral illnesses will run their course, consulting doctors can guide you in consuming the right kind of food and drinking safe water, thereby protecting you from diseases related to gut health, such as typhoid, hepatitis, diarrhoea, etc.

(The writer is consultant - infectious diseases, Manipal Hospital, Old Airport Road)

Action Plan

Ensure no water logging around the house to prevent mosquito breeding

Consume clean and hygienic food and water to prevent gastrointestinal and enteric diseases

Wear full-sleeved clothes and use mosquito repellents to prevent vector-borne diseases

Seek medical advice promptly if the illness does not improve within two days

Mind your mind @ workplace

With workplaces under increasing scrutiny for toxic cultures, here's a guide to self-care strategies

DR C J JOHN

THIS year's World Mental Health Day (Oct 10) called for prioritising mental health at the workplace. This has become more relevant in light of recent reports of deaths attributed to work pressure. Most discussions focus on sectors like information technology and financial institutions, but the reality is that any workplace can be a source of stress. Nurses, doctors, and journalists are among other vulnerable groups. Many more could be added to this list.

Threats to wellness

Any workplace focused on deadlines and increased productivity can generate stress. This culture imposes expectations in a bid to stay competitive, but overloading a workforce to achieve this can harm the well-being of both employees and the organisation.

Other factors contributing to work-related stress include long hours, job insecurity, monotonous work, over-supervision, limited promotional opportunities, harassment, discrimination, poor relationships with colleagues, and lack of encouragement.

An administrative culture that prioritises mental health in the workplace is essential. Internal systems addressing these issues must be active. Employee support mechanisms should be accessible to all those needing mental health assistance.

Unlimited damage

Work stress can cause headaches, fatigue, sleep disturbances, and anger issues. Chronic stress can lead to insomnia, a weakened immune system along with depression and anxiety.

People under excessive stress often try to cope unhealthily by smoking, or abusing alcohol and drugs, further damaging their emotional and physical well-being.

Care for yourself

Individual efforts are necessary to combat work stress. Address factors that influence your stress responses. Constant feelings of depression or anxiety will lead to burnout if left unchecked. Regular deep-breathing exercises or yoga can help manage the turmoil.

Job stress can cause automatic negative thoughts. Feelings of worthlessness can weaken the mind. It's crucial to identify and label these thoughts. Most of these thoughts are likely not aligned with reality.

After calming your negative emotions, challenge them and highlight your positive attributes. Eat a healthy diet and ensure adequate sleep. If your coping strategies fail, do not hesitate to consult a mental health professional.

Mental health is a priority

If work-related stress persists despite your best efforts, you may need to consider a job or career change. While this can be a challenging decision, especially when new opportunities are scarce, it's crucial to avoid falling into a pattern of pathological compliance with excessive workload.

'ONE GOOD 'FRIDAY' WILL MAKE A DIFFERENCE'

...says Prabhu Mundkur, the actor of Murphy, who shares insights into his extensive involvement in the film's creation, detailing how he contributed to the screenplay, penned dialogues, and wrote the lyrics for one of its songs

A SHARADHAA

PRABHU Mundkur emerges as an actor and a multifaceted creative force behind the upcoming film Murphy. His journey has been anything but ordinary—one that he describes as both tiring and incredibly rewarding. "From the time of inception, which started in a one-room setup, to the film's upload, I was right there," he reveals. "Being an actor, I have no formal film school training or background. This film became my university, and I was involved in every inch of Murphy's making."

When asked about the numerous responsibilities he took on for Murphy, Prabhu shares his candid perspective. "I just came to be an actor, and I didn't expect to take up so much," he admits. "Since 2017, from my first film Urvi to now, I have done 17 films. At that time, I wasn't choosy; the industry was tough, and opportunities were scarce. It became clear that if I wanted to contribute meaningfully, I needed to be involved in all aspects of filmmaking, not just as an actor, and Murphy is the first step."

He highlights the challenges of evolving in the film industry without a vast network. "My circle was small, and I had to push the limits. I realise that until we become recognised faces, it's difficult to break through," he explains. "I knocked on every door—some welcomed me, while others didn't. Over these four years, Murphy became a learning curve. I can't control box office results, but this experience will help me execute future projects better."

When asked about the role of director BS Pradeep Varma, Prabhu emphasises the collaborative nature of filmmaking. "Cinema is a collaborative form of art; the team must come together. BSP Varma is the director and producer, while I serve as the executive producer and associate director. I've written the dialogues and lyrics, and through this process, we've both evolved."

At its core, Murphy is a celebration of love—specifically, unconditional love. "Murphy represents that love, and that was our intention. In a world full of films with bloodshed, we aimed for a U certificate to create a clean, family-friendly film," Prabhu says, describing the film as a musical drama centered around a house in Goa, with the title reflecting a deeper connection to the story. "When we started thinking about this title, the surname sounded great, and since it's a musical, everything connected with the film's name, Murphy."

When discussing the story of Murphy, Prabhu poses a thought-provoking question: "If you had the chance to listen to the voice of someone you loved who is no longer with you, what emotions would that evoke? People will experience this through Murphy—it's deep and connects with many people."

As he reflects on his journey and the experiences gained from Murphy, Prabhu contemplates his future in cinema. "I never aspired to be an actor; it wasn't a childhood dream. I was a research scientist who had a master's degree in microbiology," he reveals. "But as I grew, I found my calling in acting. I'm committed to this journey, seeking that 'one good Friday' that will make a difference." He adds, "After Murphy, I intend to be more selective about the projects I choose. Each story deserves careful consideration," he concludes.

Murphy is an ode to the unspoken sacrifices of our parents: BS Pradeep Varma

DIRECTOR BS Pradeep Varma, who made his debut with Urvi, returns to direct his second film, Murphy, while also preparing to release another film, The Fallen. He eloquently captures the essence of Murphy with his poignant statement: "Murphy is a reminder to present and future generations about human values, and it is an ode to the unspoken sacrifices of our parents."

"At a time where the hustle of modern life often overshadows these essential principles, Murphy seeks to bring them back into focus. By encouraging audiences to reflect on these values, the film aims to foster a deeper understanding of what it means to truly care for one another. It reminds viewers that these values are not just words but the foundation of meaningful relationships," he says.

Pradeep also mentions the "unspoken sacrifices of our parents," highlighting that they are often done for their children without recognition or gratitude. "These sacrifices—whether emotional, financial, or personal—are frequently taken for granted, and Murphy endeavors to shine a light on them," he adds.

In addition to directing, Pradeep Varma is also involved in production alongside Ramco Somanna. The cast of Murphy includes Roshni Prakash, Illa Veermalla, Dattanna, Ashwini Rao Pallaki, and Mahantesh Hiremath, among others. It features music by Arjun Janya and Sylvester Pradeep, with cinematography by Adarsha R and editing by Mahesh Thogata.

The impact of crime stories can be limited when performed as a drama

...says theatre artist Sundar, who is making his directorial debut to the silver screen with Prakarana Tanikha Hantadallide

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Sundar S, who has been a stage artist since 2017, has transitioned into filmmaking with his crime thriller, Prakarana Tanikha Hantadallide. Interestingly, he has brought together 32 theater artists from various groups, along with a few known actors for this project. "The story revolves around an investigation into the drug mafia," Sundar explains. "There are still many people getting lost to drugs, and parents often find themselves in embarrassing situations because of it. This provoked me to explore this subject. While it's a fictional story, it reflects certain aspects of society."

When asked if crime stories on screen can create change in society, he responds, "To an extent, yes." As a theater artist, he notes that the impact of such crime stories can be limited when performed as a drama for small audiences. "Cinema is a larger medium, with a varied audience. Directing a film is a unique experience," he adds. Producer Chinthan Kambana, also a theater artist, collaborated with Sundar on the film, produced under Karadaayaama Studios, and features an ensemble cast, including Mahin Kuber, Mutturaj T, Raj Gagan, Pradeep Kumar BP, Chinthan Kambana, and Darshan, among others.

My father believed in me and invested his retirement savings in this project: Chinthan

Chinthan

Producer Chinthan, who hails from Hiriyur and now resides in Bengaluru, initially aspired to be an actor in cinema, but circumstances gave him the responsibility to be a producer.

"I never thought I would produce a film, but during discussions about the story, we found that potential producers hesitated to pick it up. When the opportunity arose, I took it. My father, a retired veterinary officer, believed in me and invested his retirement savings in this project. I hope to live up to his expectations, but it ultimately depends on the audience to come to the theaters and support the film," he says, expressing his desire to work in all aspects of filmmaking, including acting opportunities arise.

Prakarana Tanikha Hantadallide features cinematography by Mohan MS and Jagadeesh RJ, music by Shiom, editing by Nani Krishna, and VFX by Lakshmipathy MK.

Beyond the MAINSTREAM

MUMBAI Academy of Moving Image's (MAMI) Mumbai Film Festival faces a major shift this year. It will no longer have a title sponsor like its previous editions, which was backed by Jio. Due to limited resources, the festival will take place in a short span of six days this year, from October 19 to 24. However, festival director and filmmaker Shivendra Singh Dungarpur feels that nothing has changed. The festival will continue to screen curated films from South Asia and around the world, along with some restored classics. "It was tough for the team to pull off the festival this year but we didn't want to deny people the celebration of cinema through MAMI. We wanted that tradition to continue," says Shivendra.

He has a connection with MAMI that goes back a long time. His films, Celluloid Man (2012) and Czechmate: In Search of Jiri Menzel (2018), have been screened at the festival earlier. Even before that, Shivendra assisted Gulzar on some of his films. He says that he received two important pieces of advice from the veteran poet, lyricist, and filmmaker. "He told me to enrol in the Film and Television Institute of India (FTII) and secondly, to get a pass for MAMI," Shivendra recollects. He feels that the festival was a learning curve for him and many others like him. "I still remember collecting the catalogue from the festival every year. All those catalogues are still with me. I never thought I would be the director of this festival one day," he smiles.

Shivendra reveals that they are finding ways to make the festival sustainable in the long run. He feels that MAMI should become a space where like-minded cinema lovers can come together. "I grew up with that tradition where I would go to MAMI to see some of the greatest filmmakers from around the world. I would watch films which I would have no chance to access otherwise," he says.

Through MAMI Mumbai Film Festival, Shivendra wants to create a worthy platform for independent cinema. "I have always felt that young filmmakers need to be nourished," he says. "We need to find cinema beyond the popular discourse and celebrate films that are not just made in Mumbai but across the country in different languages that truly represent Indian culture." In line with this spirit, Shivendra wanted to open the festival with an Indian film and he feels that Payal Kapadia's All We Imagine As Light will set the right tone. "I wanted something that captures the spirit of Mumbai and this was the perfect film," he says. "I think Payal's film being an independently produced film is the correct example of what MAMI is going to follow in the years to come," he concludes.

Maantrika, a film on reality and illusion set to release this week

CE FEATURES

SUPERSTITIONS on various aspects of daily life are present across the world, with many holding onto it even today. Director Vyanavarna Jammu presents a cautionary word on this. "Don't blindly trust superstitions; there are deeper truths behind them," he says, inviting audiences to examine these themes of illusion and reality in his upcoming film, which is set to release in 40 to 50 theaters across the state on October 18 through Vijay Cinemas.

Maantrika gets into the search for truth amid both positive and negative forces.

A still from the film

Vyanavarna Jammu has taken on multiple roles in the film, directing, producing, and acting as Vyasa Van Krishna, a determined ghost hunter.

The story unfolds in the border of Karnataka and Maharashtra, and follows a captivating time travel narrative from morning to evening. "First, we need to overcome the fears in our minds. Alongside horror, we aim to deliver a meaningful message to society," explains the director.

The film features talented actors Radhika Mali Patil and Maithili Nayak in leading roles, adding depth to the intriguing plot.

Produced under the Krishna Sankula Branding Pictures banner, the soundtrack of Maantrika is composed by Stalin, cinematography by Anil Antony and Ramesh Marripalli, and action sequences choreographed by Lion G Gangaraju.
